HEARING ON THE RECIPROCITY BILL

HEAD OF PUBLISHERS' ASSOCIATION HEARD

Herman Rider Believes Trade Agreement Will Benefit the Whole Country

Washington, D. C., June 5.—The senate finance committee to-day resumed hearings on the Canadian reciprocity bill. Herman Rider, recently president of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association, being called to the chair.

Mr. Rider had not proceeded far when Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, started the committee by challenging one of Mr. Rider's statements as an "absolute falsehood."

Mr. Rider had made the statement that the newspapers of the country and the Publishers' Association had not attempted to suppress facts or to color stories sent from Washington on the subject of reciprocity. Senator McCumber interrupted with his charge of falsehoods.

Several senators insisted that McCumber's remarks should be stricken from the records. Senator McCumber agreed to have his remarks changed so as to make it read that he believed what Mr. Rider said was "unfounded."

Mr. Rider, in reply to questions from members of the committee, declared that he, as president of the Publishers' Association, had sent out word to the association telling them reciprocity agreement was of vital importance.

"But I would not have favored the agreement," added Mr. Rider. "If I had not thought it would be of good to the whole country, independent of my interest in the Newspaper Publishers' Association."

Mr. Rider testified that, while he was in favor of reciprocity as a whole, his reason as a newspaperman for urging its passage was that he might be out of the clutches of the "paper trust," which he said was robbing the newspaper publishers of the country.

Senator Stone, of Missouri, said President Taft made clear to-day that he is opposed to any amendment whatsoever to the reciprocity agreement.

Hon. W. S. Fielding's Letter.

London, June 5.—Hon. W. S. Fielding, Canadian minister of finance, in a letter appearing in the Morning Post, says a regrettable feature of the discussion in England of the Canadian-American reciprocity agreement is the disposition in some influential quarters to drag Canadian affairs into the field of party politics for the purpose of leading the public men of England, upon insufficient information, to assail the policy of a responsible governing party.

Such a proceeding in connection with any of the Dominions can hardly tend to promote that mutual confidence essential to Imperial unity.

TEN PERSONS INJURED.

Nashville, Tenn., June 5.—Ten persons were more or less seriously injured when the Lebanon train on the Tennessee Central railway crashed into a switch on the outskirts of Nashville to-day.

BEGS WOUNDED OFFICER TO FORGIVE HIM

Man Accused of Attempted Murder at Red Deer Writes to His Victim

Calgary, June 5.—After a visit from Rev. J. W. Aitken, Western Secretary of the Social and Moral Reform league, Winnipeg, Arthur Francis Kelly, accused of attempting to murder Chief Constable Bell, now lying at Red Deer, broke down, and penned a letter to Bell asking forgiveness, saying he didn't know it was Bell who interrupted his holdup and that he only shot to scare him. In a tent where Kelly lived a half made mask was discovered, which Kelly admitted, it is alleged, was commenced by him, but given up because the leather was too thick to cut properly.

With abundance of evidence against him the crown will proceed with the preliminary trial to-morrow.

PAINT MERGER.

Montreal, June 5.—A big paint merger to take in the Canadian business of the Sherwin-Williams Company, the Canada Paint Co., and a number of other concerns is announced. The capital will be $4,000,000 common and $3,000,000 preferred. It may be offered at 95 and 20 per cent of the common stock issue.

WARMEST OF YEAR.

Kansas City, June 5.—With high temperatures prevailing and no immediate prospect for rain, the entire southwest sweltered to-day. It is expected to be the warmest day thus far this year. Unless there is rain within the next few days much damage to crops will result.

MURDER WAS CAREFULLY PLANNED

HUSBAND OF VICTIM HAS NOT BEEN FOUND

It is Now Believed Harry Jobs Committed Suicide After Shooting Wife

New Westminster, June 5.—That Harry Jobs, the man for whom the police are looking on the charge of having murdered his wife in this city Saturday morning, may have committed suicide is a belief which is gradually gaining ground in semi-official circles to-day. Notwithstanding the fact that the body of the unfortunate woman was discovered less than half an hour after the shooting, Jobs has disappeared as completely as if the earth had opened and swallowed him. It is possible that he became despondent or mentally deranged and went into the bush near the city and ended his own life.

Jobs was seen on the street near Tipperary park by his son William not ten minutes before William found the dead body of his mother. The police were at once notified and every effort was made to locate the alleged murderer. He is known to several in town, but so far no one has been found who saw him after William Jobs met him. The police of New Westminster and the surrounding districts are on the alert but all efforts to arrest the man have been unavailing.

From the evidence in the possession of the police it seems certain that Jobs had carefully planned the awful deed with which he is charged. He may also have planned his getaway. It is possible that he became despondent or mentally deranged and went into the bush near the city and ended his own life.

PRESIDENT TAFT IS NOT WORRYING (Press Dispatch)

TAFT—I don't know where you expect to get by rowing that way, but I can stand it as long as you can.

FLIGHT FROM ROME MAY BE ABANDONED

Difficulty Encountered in Finding Landing Place in the Apennines

Rome, June 5.—Vidart, the fourth contestant to reach Rome, the first stage of the 1,500-mile Paris-Rome-Turin air race, arrived at 9:15 o'clock this morning. The aviator reached Orbetello, about 60 miles from Rome, on Saturday. In landing one wing and a propeller of his machine were broken. Vidart secured a new aeroplane and at 7:52 o'clock this morning reascended and flew direct to Rome.

Le Prince, a French aviator, arrived at Genoa at 6:45 a. m. The weather was magnificent, but the airman delayed his departure for Rome pending instructions from the Aero Club. The Roman Club telegraphed instructions to Le Prince that his passage over the Italian stage of the race would not be registered, as he was not entered in the contest. Le Prince only asked that chronometer registration of his arrivals and departures along the route be taken.

There is some talk of abandoning the last leg of the Paris-Rome-Turin race owing to the difficulty in finding a proper landing place in the Apennines. Beaumont, however, says he will make the flight to Turin whether that portion of the race is officially eliminated or not. According to the rules the start from Rome may be made any time before June 10 for the Rome-Turin section of the contest.

LEAPS FROM WINDOW.

Toronto, June 5.—Mrs. Carrie Buckland, following a difference with her landlady, found the door of her room locked and jumped from the window, alighting on an iron piling. She was removed and taken to the hospital. She will die.

HAS NOT PURCHASED NANAIMO MINES

Report Denied by Vice-President of the Canadian Collieries

Vancouver, June 5.—"The Canadian Collieries (Dunsmuir) Limited, has not purchased the coal mines of the Western Fuel Co., nor has it any intention of doing so," said A. D. McIlwain, vice-president of the former company, to-day, in denial of a report sent out from Victoria. The mines of the Western Fuel Company are at Nanaimo, and the principal owners are San Francisco capitalists.

TEN PERSONS LOSE THEIR LIVES

TWO GASOLINE
LAUNCHES CAPSIZED

One Overturned by Squall—Second Accident Due to Overcrowding of Boat

Salt Lake, Utah, June 5.—Six persons were drowned in Utah Lake yesterday when the launch Galilee, on which sixteen persons were attending a party given in honor of the approaching marriage of Miss Vera Brown and Edward R. Holmes, capsized. Among the drowned were the engaged couple and two children of Edwin Brown, owner of the launch.

The drowned were Frank Brown, aged 23; Vera Brown, 21, and Helen Brown, aged 17, all children of Captain Brown; Edward R. Holmes, clerk; Benjamin Raymond and Sherwood Raymond, his son. All the victims of the accident lived in Salt Lake City.

Up until this morning but one body, that of Miss Vera Brown, had been recovered. Her body was taken from the water by her father and was lashed by him to the mast of the boat. The party left Geneva, on the east shore of the lake, at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. About an hour later the launch was struck by a sudden squall, turned sideways to the wind, and almost instantly all of the sixteen persons aboard were thrown into the water. The boat turned over, robbing the struggling people of an opportunity to hold it.

WILL CLOSE DEAL FOR COAL PROPERTY

London Syndicate to Develop Coal Measures on Tumbo Island

Vancouver, June 5.—A. E. Hepburn of this city, left yesterday for London to close a deal for the sale of the Tumbo Island coal property in the straits of Georgia, and which has been prospected with a diamond drill during the past two years. The island was recently visited by Prof. Galloway, a world-famous Cardiff expert.

It is understood that in consequence of the character of his report a London syndicate has decided to acquire and develop these coal measures. Mr. Hepburn left on short notice on receipt of a cablegram and will be away for six weeks.

The coal seams on Tumbo Island are bituminous and belong to and are identical with the Nanaimo series, their presence further south having been indicated by the late Prof. Dawson in a prophecy made over thirty years ago. The property controlled by Mr. Hepburn and associates contains about 3,000 acres and is estimated to contain 30,000,000 tons of bituminous coal.

WALK OUT IN BUILDING TRADES

FOUR THOUSAND MEN IDLE AT VANCOUVER

Bricklayers, Street Railway Men and Teamsters Are at Work

Vancouver, June 5.—Between three and four thousand men of the building trades quit work this morning in what they technically describe as a "cessation of labor."

To strike is illegal by federal law; hence every individual acted and failed to appear for work. All union carpenters are out, but the bricklayers refused to join them. It is estimated that work has been stopped on two-thirds of the buildings, but many non-union carpenters are working, and all bricklayers are apparently employed. Street railway men, teamsters, etc., refused to join the strike.

Curiously enough, street cars stopped this morning for half an hour just after 8 o'clock, but the company issued a bulletin at 10 o'clock declaring that the delay had been caused by ordinary trouble on the high tension transmission line outside the city. This line and the company's buildings are being guarded.

Strike leaders announced at 10 o'clock that they had gained their end as well as they expected, claiming that street railway and other unions did not quit because it was not necessary in the interests of the strike.

Leaders of the master builders declare that their jobs are proceeding as usual and that they had more men apply for work this morning for open shops than they could provide work for. In the big uptown buildings work seems to be progressing as usual, but there is a great crowd of union men around the labor hall.

ROSE FESTIVAL

OPENS AT PORTLAND

Oregon City in Gala Attire for Festivities Which Will Last Six Days

Portland, Ore., June 5.—Portland's fifth annual Rose Festival was ushered in to-day with booming guns, ringing bells and shrieking whistles that signalled the arrival of the Rex Oregonus, the personification of festive spirit. The King arrived on the steamship Rose City, which was decked out from stern to stem with roses and evergreens, and anchored near the mouth of the Willamette.

Portland, which has for more than a week been taking on festive attire, is decorated on a scale unprecedented here. The principal streets are a mass of red and white bunting, while the stores and buildings generally adhere to old rose and green, the festival colors.

As in previous years, the allegorical electric parade which will take place Tuesday night is awaited with the keenest anticipation. The sixteen electric lighted floats, which required nearly a year to design and construct, were declared even to excel the beautiful productions of previous years.

In addition to the electric parade, there will be, during the six days the festival lasts, numerous rose-decorated parades, the annual rose show, the shower of roses as well as aviation exhibitions by Eugene Ely and a multitude of other diversions.

ANOTHER FIRE AT REGINA

Regina, Sask., June 5.—About two o'clock yesterday morning fire broke out in a store in Broder's annex, outside the city limits, and before the city brigade could get water connections to the scene of the fire, damage to the extent of about $10,000 had been done.

TRIES TO STOP HIS OWN TRIAL

GUNNER ALLEN ASKS TO MAKE A STATEMENT

Murder Charge in Connection With Capt. Elliston's Death
Re-Opened in Assizes

Gunner Thomas Allen, charged for the second time with the murder of Capt. Peter Elliston at Work Point barracks, on August 1 last, created a sensation in the assize court this morning when, having been charged and his plea taken and the jury selected, he arose in the dock and exclaimed amid a death-like silence: "My Lord, I wish to make a statement. I do not wish these proceedings to go any further. I ask to be allowed to speak."

Mr. Justice Murphy told the prisoner he had been arraigned and his plea entered and that he could approach the court only through his counsel.

Allen made another attempt to speak, when his solicitor, C. F. Davis, turned and spoke to him. Allen then, with apparent discontent at the proceedings, slowly resumed his seat in the dock. The prisoner appeared in the dock this morning pale and restless but otherwise in good health. He wore the working clothes of the military barracks and was slightly stooped in appearance than when he was presented on his first trial. The events he has gone through since then appear to have told on him, for he looks like a man tired of life, restless and unhappy, and his evident desire to end the trial was noticeable in his voice when he started the court with his exclamation.

When the prisoner was placed in the dock he held a short consultation with his counsel. In obtaining a jury the complete panel was exhausted before the twelve men were selected. Mr. Davis challenged fifteen men, who were for the most part past the middle of life, and the jury as selected is composed of young men. Mr. Alkman for the crown challenged five, and two were excused because of their disability in capital punishment. The jury as finally chosen consists of: Wm. Drysdale, Foreman; Vincent K. Gray, Henry C. Uhlman, James Alex. Dinmore, Charles Holmes, Edward Jackson, Robert Kerr, Thomas Johnstone, Percy Toke, George Arthur O'Kell, alderman for Victoria West; George Stanley Bridges, and William Whittington.

Mr. Alkman shortly addressed the jury, setting out the facts alleged by the prosecution and called Dr. E. C. Hart, who testified that deceased had come to his death by a bullet wound in the neck.

Dr. Walter Baity corroborated the evidence of Dr. Hart and said death had been due to hemorrhage caused by the wound.

To Mr. Davis the witness said he had never had occasion to examine the accused at anytime.

Mr. Davis withheld his cross-examination of Dr. Hart and intimated he would call the physician later in the trial.

Co. Q. M. S. Charles P. Askey, No. 5 Co., R. C. G. A. said that on the morning of the death of Capt. Elliston he was in the company office and his

ANARCHIST SUSPECT FOUND ON STEAMER

Man Believed to Be "Peter the Painter" Held by Authorities
at Manila

Manila, June 5.—The Philippine authorities are holding a stowaway found on the British steamer Protosalus which arrived here to-day. The man embarked on the vessel at Singapore while coal was being taken on and it is suspected that he is "Peter the Painter," the Russian anarchist for whom the British police have been searching in connection with the murder of three policemen in Houndsditch, of which the "Battle of Sydney Street" was a sequel.

The officials of the British consulate here, who are skeptical that the man will prove to be "Peter the Painter," are holding him.

The Protosalus left Liverpool April 30 and is bound for Seattle. For a time it was thought by the police that Peter was one of the outlaws killed in the fighting between London police and anarchists January 3, last, but later the man was reported as having been seen at various places in Europe.

Benjamin W. Raymond's little son was the first to sink. His father caught him and they sank together. Edward H. Holmes heard the scream of his daughter and as soon as he could locate her in the water he went to her aid. They went to the bottom clasped in each other's arms.

St. Louis, Mo., June 5.—Four men were drowned and three rescued from a gasoline launch capsized in the Mississippi river here. The accident is attributed to overcrowding the launch.

BASEBALL IN PRISON.

Old Time Player Under Sentence of Death Acts as Umpire.

Carson City, Nev., June 5.—Patrick Casey, old-time ball player, who is under sentence of death for a murder committed in Goldfield, acted as umpire in what probably will be his last baseball game, at the Nevada state penitentiary yesterday. For some time two convict teams have been practicing within hearing of Casey's cell. After following the progress of the game by the crack of bat and thud of ball into the fielder's gloves, Casey applied to Warden Baker for the privilege of seeing and umpiring one more game. He was allowed to do so, although many changes have been made in the rules since Casey's incarceration. No bickers were registered against his decisions.

ROYAL FAMILY VISITS ZOO.

King, Queen and Children Inspect Collection of Animals Sent As Coronation Gift From Africa.

London, June 5.—Since the period of court mourning ended, the British public has been finding ample opportunity to become acquainted with the sovereigns by the constant appearances at various functions. Their Majesties, with their children, made an unexpected visit yesterday to the zoological gardens to inspect a collection of 200 animals which have newly arrived as a coronation gift to the King from the union of South Africa.

The Chinese cruiser Hai Chi, with China's representatives to the coronation, long and Ching, arrived yesterday in Plymouth.

EARTHQUAKE IN BELGIUM.

Charleroi, Belgium, June 5.—An earthquake was felt at Gosselies, four miles north of this city, on Saturday afternoon. Many houses were damaged. The streets are littered with debris. There were no casualties.

SCOTTISH SPORTS ARE BIG SUCCESS

GREAT GATHERING HELD AT WILLOWS SATURDAY

Over Two Thousand People Witness the Sports Meet of St. Andrew's Society

Hoch Aye was the all-star motto in the city of Victoria on Saturday, and all those who were so unfortunate either by birth or inclination as to be incapable of giving a spirited rendering to that vocal insignia of Scottish nativity were voted bores or aliens—and the choice was granted with that generous-hearted freedom which is one of Auld Scotia's chiefest characteristics.

Saturday, or, to momentarily lapse into the Glaswegian dialect which seems to be the most favored in this western suburb of the empire, Saturday was Scotland's day, and those who did not for the nonce succeed in surmounting the unfortunate natural barriers to an assumption of the character of Scotsmen looked very small fry indeed, for the kilted race was in the ascendant; and, as everybody knows, from Skagway to the Southern Cross, when Scotsmen are in the ascendant, the bottom dogs are low indeed.

The accidental fact that Saturday was also the King's birthday did not really amount to anything more than a courtesy on his Majesty's part, due to the occasion of the Scottish fete, which took the form of a sports meet at the exhibition grounds at the Willows. Had the King's birthday not been "thrown in" as it were, the Scottish function would have gone on with the same national vim and vigor, but, on the other hand, and the fete been postponed or in any way withdrawn, his Majesty's birthday would have been but the more poorly remembered. The greater invariably contains the latter, and the present occasion proved no exception to the rule.

If it were possible by an violation of

J. W. GALLOWAY.

Chilliwack, first president of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society of British Columbia.

the sense of proportion or the eccentricity of the imagination to conceive of the Willows in some far off likeness to the Colosseum, it might, with some due regard to propriety, be said in regard to Scottish sports that "all roads lead to Rome," but since, by general consent, no possible combination of mental gyrations could evolve such a vision the simile is hopelessly out of place, and cannot therefore appear here in other than a negative way. However, it can be said both with truth and propriety that all roads led to the Willows on Saturday, with the happy result, that that spacious enclosure was more comfortably bedecked with frills and laces and mirthful faces than it has been for a long time past. Scotsmen ceased from driving the plough or the quill, as the case may be, and hiked (that word is almost expressive enough to be Scotch) to the exhibition grounds. Most of them hired a tramway car for the trip, while others motored, and still others "moked."

By the time the Boy Scouts band gave the proceedings the "chord on," as the music hall artists insist on calling the opening bar, there were at least 2,000 people congregated in the grandstand. And a pretty sight they made too, arrayed in ribbons of red and yellow—whatever that might represent to the non-Scotch mind. A prompt start was made with the programme, as it was as long as Loch Lomond, and right from the start good, clean sport was served up. While, from a sporting point of view, the adult events were most interesting, the juvenile races and dances were very attractive features of a well-proportioned programme.

In the open hundred yards' race, Harry Beasley, the popular local sprinter, won easily, but in the handicap which followed he finished several yards behind J. Martin, to whom he was conceding ten yards. The track was very heavy, and considering the drawback the time recorded was very good, although it by no means came up to what the official recorder's watch made it. Records of unsurpassable calibre were easily possible with the assistance of such an eccentric clock, but happily for the preservation of these records every clock is not regarded as infallible.

The high jump provided excellent sport, George Dickson ultimately winning with a fine effort of five feet three and a half inches. After disposing of his competitors Dickson gave an exhibition jump of five feet four and a half.

Several of the Vancouver competitors pulled off track events, notably T. H. Gallon, who won a double event in the 440 and 880 yard races, winning both hands. In the field events D. Gillis, of Vancouver, was prominent, winning the hammer-throwing events, but succumbing to Ed. Whyte, of Alberni, in that supreme Scottish test of strength and skill, tossing the caber. Ed., well-known in Victoria and a husky blacksmith, cleaned up the opposition in this department of athletics rather easily.

Highland dancing by little girls was greatly enjoyed by the spectators. The competition was keen and the dancing irreproachable. And of course there was the inevitable pipe playing, which called forth the wrath of the sassenachs and soothed the turgid spirits of the northern. Altogether the function, which was held under the auspices of the St. Andrew's and Caledonian Society of British Columbia, was a most successful one. Other meetings of a similar nature have been held in the past, but none of them ever approached the dimensions and dignity of the present one.

The results of the several events were as follows:

100 yards handicap, boys under 14 years—1. Malcolm Dickson (time, 13.4-5); 2. Jack Stewart; 3. I. Gandy.

TAFT SPEAKS ON RECIPROCITY PACT

WILL PASS BY FORCE OF PUBLIC OPINION

Closely Argued Balance Shows Advantage Accrues to Both Countries

Chicago, June 5.—President Taft, in a speech before the Western Economic Society here Saturday night, declared that the principal opposition to the Canadian reciprocity agreement came not from the farmer, but from the "lumber trust," and from American manufacturers of print paper. In one of the most comprehensive addresses
 that he has ever made on the subject,
 Mr. Taft outlined some of the methods employed by the opponents of reciprocity, practically told the farmers that they were being "buncoed" by special interest, and said the fate of the agreement rested, not so much with the United States senate as with the people of the country.

"If the farmers and the country at large," he said, "could be brought to understand that this treaty was in the interest of the majority of the people, he would no longer fear the coming vote in the senate."

Mr. Taft was not sparing in his words. He told the reasons for the opposition to the treaty by the "lumber trust," and by the paper manufacturers, and without using names, scored a New York firm, some of whose members recently appeared at the hearings before the senate finance committee in Washington, ostensibly in behalf of the National Grange, and objected to the enactment of the agreement.

In spite of the forces that are arrayed against the treaty, Mr. Taft expressed the belief that it would become a law.

"The bill," he said, "will pass, if it passes at all, because of the force of public opinion in its favor."

Mr. Taft said in part: "Beginning what I have to say, I desire to express my sincere gratitude to the members of the Western Economic Society for giving me an opportunity to address, on this important subject, so distinguished and intelligent a company."

"The Canadian reciprocity agreement, providing for free trade in agricultural products of the two countries, and for a corresponding reduction of duties on all the secondary food products, and for a considerable reduction in a number of manufactured goods, passed the House of Representatives in April last, was referred by the senate to its committee on finance and there has been under consideration by the committee for a number of weeks. Witnesses in favor of and against the passage of the agreement have been heard at considerable length, and we now hope that the bill will be brought before the senate, possibly without recommendation, some time during the coming week."

"The agreement had been suggested in the necessary conferences held with the representatives of Canada over the question of application of the maximum and minimum classes of the Payne tariff bill to Canadian importations into this country; and in the course of the adjustment of that question, in which, by reason of certain Canadian concessions on exports of the United States into Canada, we were able to apply the minimum tariff to Canadian imports, it seemed mutually profitable to extend the consideration of the tariffs of the two countries, already begun, to the point of a complete reciprocity agreement. Commissioners who had expert knowledge of the subject were appointed, and after investigations and study and conferences that covered an entire year, an agreement was finally reached, which has been embodied in the bill which has passed the House and is pending in the senate."

"The cordial approval throughout the country, which the proposed agreement received when it was sent to congress surprised even those who were responsible for its making; and I am confident that further consideration of the treaty since its submission to congress in January last has only confirmed the popular judgment in favor of its adoption into law. The treaty is pending in Washington and the decision must be made in the senate of the United States.
 The bill will pass, if it passes at all,
 because of the force of public opinion
 in its favor."

"The agreement has been criticized because it was framed as a completed
 document by the state department, without consultation with members of the house or senate, and we of the administration have been subjected to many attacks on these grounds. The subject matter of the treaty, however,
 was of such a character—it covered so many different items—that if conferences had been sought in respect to these items, the individual objections by senators and representatives would have been so many that we would never have reached an agreement at all."

"One of the great objections to the old method of framing a tariff bill was that in order to secure its passage every district had to be given something in the bill in the way of protection, whether it needed it or not, for the purpose of appeasing the representatives of that district. This method was obviously calculated to produce a bill, drawn not with a view to the protection, but for many industries that did not need it at all. Hence the proposition has been made, and has received general approval, that the various schedules of the tariff should be considered separately and the amount of protection to be furnished to a particular product should be determined on its merits with reference to the cost of its production at home and abroad."

"Now, the Canadian reciprocity agreement, in a little different way, involves in its consideration the same principle. It calls for approval as a unit, without regard to the necessity for tariff revision, if there be such ne-

BRITAIN REBUKES SULTAN OF MOROCCO

Cruelty of Troops at Fez Leads to Withdrawal of Invitation to Coronation

London, June 5.—The British government's invitation to Morocco to send a special ambassador to the coronation of King George has been withdrawn and the foreign office has notified El Mokri, who had been designated to represent the Sultan, that he will not be received.
 This action on the part of the British government was brought about by the cruelty with which the Sultan's troops treated women and children during the recent raid from Fez. The soldiers captured many women and girls in the neighboring villages and sold them in the streets of Fez.

AFTER OPIUM SMUGGLERS.

 band of smugglers which was recently driven from Albany, N. Y. Wagner was only recently released from the Detroit house of correction, where he served a term for bringing Chinese into the United States illegally. His examination has been set for June 15.

THE COLONIST AT BAY.

By a single commonplace stratagem which, by the way, was an admission of fact, the Times has been able to lure the Colonist into an avowal of its exact attitude upon the reciprocity question and has forced it to admit its alignment with all the organs of high protection and costly living in Canada. Our contemporary has been endeavoring to evade its true position and has been so successful in its evasion that it fooled even that cold-blooded Tory organ the Mail and Empire of Toronto but it can do so no longer.

The Times said that the wages of lumbermen in the state of Washington are slightly lower than for the same class of labor in British Columbia and alleged this as one of the component parts of a reason why American lumber is advantaged in its competition with the same material produced in this province. The Colonist greedily seizes upon this segregated but integral part of an argument to fasten the whole case for high-tariffs on the question of wages to a certain class of employees. In doing so the morning paper puts its foot squarely upon well defined ground and, in order that readers of the Times may know what sort of logic is being served up for the education of those who are asked to believe in high tariffs and vote against reciprocity we propose to state the argument of our contemporary.

The Colonist says that the duty of $2 per thousand feet on rough Canadian lumber going into the United States has reduced the wages of the lumbermen and mill employees in the United States. Although there is no duty against rough American lumber coming into Canada the Colonist says that the removal of this $2 embargo against Canada will lower the pay of Canadian wage earners.

The Colonist argues still farther, that the only way by which the wages of the Canadian laborer can be kept up to the present scale, or increased, is by raising the price of his foodstuffs and increasing the cost of his living. The Colonist, unblinking, holds the American tariff of $2 against Canadian lumber responsible for the lower wages of lumbermen in the States, but—we repeat it lest it should not be believed—it says the only way to keep the Canadian laborer from starving is to raise the cost of his living.

We need scarcely point out that an increase in the cost of living—the price of foodstuffs—for lumbermen must mean an increase all around. That is to say in order to save ourselves from the industrial calamity that will follow the abolition of a tariff wall against Canadian lumber the man who digs our ditches must be taxed more for his food. The postal clerks, the letter carriers, the merchant clerks, the stenographers, the men who drive delivery wagons, drays and carts, the men who break rock for our pavements, the miners who dig coal, the men who man the smelters, the rail-way employees in every class, all the men and women who fetch and carry or work for pay in any way must be made to pay more for what they eat than before or else the wages of our lumbermen will go down. The washerwoman, the nurse, the teacher, the gardener, the domestic servant, the carpenter and skilled mechanic, as well as the householder, all must pay more for food if we are to avert this calamity. It is the only way to avoid industrial wreck that the Colonist can see.

The Colonist says also that the expansion of our market for lumber will be a bad thing for our industry because it must react upon ourselves. Consequently, in order to become rich, all we have to do is to make secure the limitations of our field for the sale of lumber; keep up the embargo against the export of our products, and, when we have an insufficient home market remain idle. To work, get good pay, better than the American wage earner—is only to herald the fact that we are on the way to ruin. In order to be prosperous we must rob ourselves of a market for our commodities and keep up the cost of living.

The Colonist says that if we take off the $2 embargo against lumber going into the United States we shall ship more there and the result will be that there will be more American lumber "dumped" into Canada. We might reply to this that if the Canadian North-west builder prefers to buy American "dumps" for the same price that he would pay for first class Canadian lumber that is his own lookout. We shall not insult his intelligence by suggesting that he will. But the Colonist says he will. The Colonist says that the Prairie farmer will keep on buying American culms at the same price as he would pay for "No. 1 British Columbia hard" lumber in order to force the American millmen to ship their lumber into our country to make a way for our first class lumber over there. Verily, these Prairie farmers need "protection," but we fancy they do not know it yet and will probably be a long time finding it out.

The Colonist's syllogism is therefore: The abolition of the $2 duty against Canadian lumber going into the United States will reduce wages in Canada; Wages in Canada can then only be kept up by increasing the cost of living to the wage-earner;

In order to keep up wages in Canada, therefore, let us increase the cost of living by keeping up the embargo of $2 per thousand against Canadian lumber going into the United States. We admit that the thing does not read quite rationally and we suspect that some of our subscribers will detect a flaw in the logic but the above is, nevertheless, a fair and impartial statement of the position taken by the Colonist on the question of reciprocity as it relates to the lumber market and industry. Thus the Colonist in its overweening vanity and egotism has permitted itself to be trapped into making about as ridiculous a logician of itself as the annals of Canadian journalism record.

In the meantime the Colonist has omitted to explain, if high protection is so great an assurance of the prosperity of Canadian manufacturers, why the government of this province compels the municipalities to pay the duty on the road rollers brought in from the United States when the same class of machinery could be purchased in Canada for less money. Does that help to keep up the wages of the British Columbia workman? Does it demonstrate that a high protective tariff encourages home industry? There are people in British Columbia who think this quite as germane to the reciprocity issue as is a lumber transaction.

SIR ALAN'S CANDIDACY.

Sir Alan Aylesworth has decided to again be a candidate in North York, undoubtedly, because of his enthusiasm for the reciprocity agreement with the United States. About six months ago, and before the reciprocity pact had been arrived at, Sir Alan announced at a meeting of his constituents that he would not again seek re-election. He had arrived at this decision solely in consequence of deafness, from which he has been suffering for several years. After the reciprocity agreement had been announced and during a debate in the House, Sir Alan stated that if there was one thing that would induce him to reconsider his decision and remain in public life for a time longer it was this agreement, which when put into operation would prove to be of enormous advantage to Canada. If there is an election this year reciprocity will be the issue and there is little doubt Sir Alan will be a candidate. He could not turn his back upon such a fight. But if reciprocity carries in parliament and a general election is deferred for a year or two, it is very probable the brilliant Minister of Justice will feel constrained to retire whenever parliament is dissolved. Sir Alan Aylesworth, still a comparatively young man, is unquestionably the ablest minister of justice that Canada has ever had, and his retirement from public life, owing to the affliction of deafness, would be, at any time, and especially at this juncture in the affairs of Canada, a great loss, not only to the party of which he is a prominent member, but to the whole country.

FROSTY AMITY.

With the variety of publicity methods adopted by public associations and provincial governments in Canada to make known the attractions and advantages of this country to prospective immigrants, it may be interesting to readers of the Times to know how that work is being carried on by the government of the state of Victoria in the Commonwealth of Australia. The state government at Melbourne issues a booklet setting forth the features of the country in a manner well calculated to attract the attention of the many in other lands who are looking for opportunities to move toward better conditions of life. The booklet is unique in one feature which might be copied and in another which will strike the average analyst as being somewhat beneath the dignity of a British state.

The folder is postal card size and its back page is printed with a classified order of the various industries, such as farming, dairying, stock raising, fruit growing and the like. Opposite each industry is a square which may be marked similarly to a ballot paper and indicative of the class of literature desired by the curious applicant. The reverse side is addressed to the department at Melbourne and brings the desired answer.

The reading matter within the folder is of first class advertising letter press, and one paragraph appears worthy of notice if not comment. It reads as follows:

"Canada and Victoria compared.—I do not desire to reflect on Canada in any way, but I must point out the difference between Canada and Victoria. Canada is offering great inducements to settlers to go there—160 acres of land free is a very tempting bait. But let us look at the bait all the same. The climate of Canada is one of the most severe in which agriculture is at all possible. The cold in winter is so intense that cultivation is only possible during six months of the year. For the other six months the farmer has to cease cultivating and all his stock has to be housed and fed."

Then follows a list in detail of the agonies that must be faced in the matter of the rigorous cold, the cost of clothing, of fuel and the other items that minister to comparative comfort. Of course all these are offset by glowing descriptions of the difference in the glorious morning down in Australia.

We have said that these pamphlets are issued by the government and they bear the imprimatur of the Hon. Frank Madden, who is a member of the cabinet.

These facts were brought to our attention by a Mr. James Farrier, of Salem, Ogn., who has just arrived back home after spending a year in the Antipodes looking over what was offered. Our informant has been a horticulturist and was in charge of extensive nurseries at Salem when he was attracted by the advertisements we have noted. Desiring to better his condition, and having the wherewith to do so, he went to Australia prepared to make investment and start in horticultural industries should the circumstances and conditions warrant. Though so close to Canada, he did not investigate conditions nearer home, as he was misled by the literature from the other side of the world. What he says of Australia on his return will not be published by us because to do so would be to be guilty of the very same "knocking" of a sister dominion of which we complain.

We may say this, however, that Canada, with all her disadvantages, has never found it necessary in exploiting or advertising her marvelous resources to descend to the iniquity of knocking a sister colony. Perhaps this is enough said. If it is not, we shall simply add that Canada does not need to do so.

The Portland Oregonian says that the determination of the American immigrants in Canada "to remain independent and refuse to kow-tow to royalty has made a great impression on the progressive Canadians," and "has been a potent influence in producing the sentiment favorable to reciprocity." Another illustration of the windbag egotism of ignorant Americans. We have always found the best and most sensible American people in Canada express the warmest appreciation of the British institutions under which they live. Many admit that the prejudices they brought with them, when they came here were due to just such folly and misrepresentation as the Oregonian is guilty of. We know of none of them who have been asked to "kow-tow to royalty," nor of any who have refused. Those who do not like our institutions, if such there are, are quite at liberty to remain "independent."

They will attract less attention here than in the country from which they came and to which they are always at liberty to return unless there are criminal indictments against them over there.

At last Hon. Richard McBride, premier of British Columbia, has contrived to get into the spotlight. We were wondering whether he and Hon. W. J. Bowser had got lost in the crowd or washed in the crush, but it is comforting to know that it is not so. It is in connection with the comfort of the accommodation afforded him by the steamship company whose liners he honored with his passage on the journey across the big pond. Here is a paragraph from his letter which calms our excited and wrecked nerves:

"I beg to express my very high appreciation of the unfailing kindness and courtesy shown by the White Star line and the captain, officers and staff of the Celtic during our trip across the Atlantic. The ship has been so steady that one could hardly think it was in mid ocean, and everything possible was done for our comfort.

"All is well that ends well."

The Montreal Witness gives the opposition this gentle hint: "Whatever Mr. Borden and his friends may do or say in the West, and whatever impression they may receive from their visit, the fact remains that they are taking the side of privilege against the interests of the masses; that they are trying to dam a trade stream which carries with it equal privileges and generous prosperity; and that the effect of their campaign, if successful, would be to put this country back commercially for years, and injure, at least to some extent, the growth of friendship and understanding between the United Kingdom and the United States, which is beneficent politically, and which may lead practically to open markets between the two great countries. If the Conservatives are happy in this sort of quest, we do not envy them."

What we really ought to do, according to our local high tariff contingency is to put a prohibitive tariff on lumber coming in from the United States. This could scarcely be right to-day, however, as the Tories took off the tariff on lumber in 1894. But if we put a high tariff on lumber coming into Canada we will lower the wages of the B. C. workmen as happens under high tariff in the United States. Then, in order to offset these lower wages, we must raise the cost of living and protect the poor working man. The logic of the situation is becoming so muddled that perhaps it had better be let alone. Let us do like the Colonist—having "accomplished our purpose and extracted these admissions" from our contemporary "we are quite satisfied to let the matter rest there."

"Shall our local county have the wool pulled over its eyes, comrades? Shall the capitalist politicians avoid longer this greatest of issues that faces the Canadian people? Shall the political henchmen of the master class who passes infamous laws on the constitutional lie that he represents your interests get away without being forced to explain his position? You can make it mighty uncomfortable for your member and you can do it by constitutional methods." This is from Cotton's weekly, the Socialist organ of Quebec, and will be accepted with alacrity by the Nanaimo Socialists.

We reproduce the following from the Ottawa Journal just to show what sort of philosophy some papers publish in their editorial columns. The Journal says: "At least three Canadian churches have been struck by lightning within a few days of each other. Now, if the lightning had struck three gambling houses, or even three saloons, a fine healthy, if somewhat superstitious, moral could be drawn. As it is, moralizing is somewhat at a standstill."

It is not often that magistrates give gratuitous advice to lawyers, but the advice given by Magistrate Jay to prospective counsel for litigious Hindus was entirely gratuitous. The magistrate recommended a stiff client fee to prevent trivial cases being taken to court. Of course what he meant was that lawyers should represent that it would cost a good deal to go to law. No use.

"It is alleged by friends of reciprocity in the United States that the farmers who went to Washington, to speak against it traveled in Pullman cars, and put up at the most expensive hotels. But that is nothing," says the Toronto Mail and Empire. No it is nothing when you know that they travelled at the expense of the Bankers, Insurance men and Trust interests.

The Hamilton Spectator says: The average value of improved land in Ontario is $50 per acre. In British Columbia the value is $73 per acre. These two provinces lead all the others in value of farm lands. The Hamilton paper has another guess coming on the value of "improved" British Columbia farm lands. But that does not alter the fact that the same tariff governs both.

To the Editor:—Having read the article in Friday's Times on the "Revolution in Cookery Methods," I greatly daring, seized the shoulder of mutton destined for our Saturday's dinner, tied it up in a paper bag, put it on a little stand on an iron baking dish, popped it into the oven, and waited results more or less hopefully. Suppose it were a dismal failure. Then my thoughts dwelt on supplies in the house—a very minute portion of stewed beef, two eggs and what we both hate, "emergencies" by which, of course, I mean tinted meats. But suppose a huge success; how glorious for the King's birthday. The fateful hour arrived. I drew it out of the oven, tore off the bag, and lo! a brown, juicy, perfectly cooked, succulent joint presented itself to my admiring eyes, with pure meat juices cheerfully pouring down into the pan. The flavor when the joint was carved was delicious, far better than when roasted in the ordinary way.

As I may by chance hold the proud position of pioneer of paper bag cookery in Victoria, I chronicle my success in order to encourage others to try this new and excellent method of cookery. MARTHA J. ATKINS, Beach Cottage, 132 Dallas Road, June 4.

The regular monthly meeting of the Victoria Hindustani Association was held yesterday at the Friends' hall on Courtney street. Owing to the absence of the president Robert W. Clark was asked to take the chair and was supported by Dr. Sunder Singh. There was a good attendance of the local Hindu colony and a few English-speaking sympathizers. Mr. Clark addressed the meeting and said that there was no doubt that Hindu fellow-subjects from Hindustan suffered under great disabilities, but so were the Society of Friends, to whom he belonged. The Friends were persecuted in the beginning of their career solely because they differed from the established church, and it was not till the late fifties that they were even allowed to join the Universities of Cambridge or Oxford. He advised his hearers to be patient and to approach the proper authorities in a constitutional way. He also asked the audience to take part in the coronation procession here this month. After a short address by Dr. Sunder Singh the meeting was brought to a close.

PLEASING INCIDENT.

The members of the Orpheus Club of Tacoma, and many of the Arion Club, gathered at the Empress Sunday afternoon before the departure of the steamer for Seattle, when a very pleasing little incident occurred. The members of both clubs were called into the ladies' parlor for a few songs before their departure, and during the interval Chas. Bedford, Tacoma, spoke eloquently as to the things they had found here and others that had been lost, but one thing they intended to replace was the gold watch lost by their fair accompanist, Miss Rose Karasek, and try a new one bought in Victoria by members of both clubs, which it afforded him great pleasure to present.

The young lady was quite overcome, as also were many present, the club sang the club motto, and amid the congratulations of her many friends the incident closed. It is hoped that in response to the adv. in the Times of today the gold watch lost between the Empress and Victoria theatre will be restored to the rightful owner. Being a gift from her mother it has a value to her which money or a new watch cannot possess.

A PHENOMENAL RECORD.

In the 41 years during which The Mutual Life of Canada has been in operation, not one dollar received from its policyholders has been lost out of the many millions invested for their security. Such a record is truly a phenomenal one, and it is a question if a parallel to it can be found in any other financial institution in the history of Canada.

Moreover, it costs policyholders in The Mutual Life of Canada only about half as much to look after their business as in the average of all Canadian companies, and being a purely mutual company, no part of its earnings is absorbed by stockholders. Every dollar is for the policyholder, and not a dollar for the stockholder. For rates and particulars apply to R. L. Drury, Manager, or Fred M. McGregor, Special Agent, 918 Government street.

WEATHER BULLETIN.

Daily Report Furnished by the Victoria Meteorological Department.

Victoria, June 5—5 a. m.—The pressure is becoming abnormally high over the Pacific slope, and with the exception of heavy rain at Prince Rupert and Triangle Island the weather west of the Rockies is chiefly fair and cool. In the prairie provinces a low area is central in Manitoba and a trough of low pressure covers the Mississippi valley. Heavy rain has fallen in Saskatchewan and Manitoba and over one inch at Port Arthur.

Forecasts.

For 24 hours ending 5 p. m. Tuesday.

Victoria and vicinity—Southernly and westerly winds, generally fair, with stationary or higher temperature.

Lower Mainland—Light to moderate winds, generally fair, with stationary or higher temperature.

Reports at 5 a. m.

Victoria—Barometer, 30.24; temperature, 41; minimum, 33; wind, 4 miles W.; weather, clear.

Vancouver—Barometer, 30.25; temperature, 44; minimum, 44; wind, 4 miles E.; weather, part cloudy.

Kamloops—Barometer, 30.12; temperature, 48; minimum, 44; wind, 4 miles N.E.; weather, part cloudy.

Prince Rupert—Barometer, 30.14; temperature, 44; minimum, 42; wind, calm; rain, 36; weather, rain.

SPOKANE, OUTBATTED, IS SAVED BY OSTDIK

Tacoma Eighth Game From Portland, Making Seven Out of Eight

Spokane, Wash., June 5.—By interpolating fine football tactics with a splendid exhibition of backstop work, Captain Harry Ostdik practically won yesterday's game for Spokane single-handed. His team was outbatted more than two to one, but he saved at least one more run for Vancouver, stole home with a run and by upsetting Erickson at first base in the ninth inning, enabled Cartwright to reach third, from which he scored the winning run. Umpire Loganek gave a fine exhibition of a buffaloe umpire and Ostdik got away with all his rough stuff.

Erickson was hard to hit, but was wild. Holm was very steady and although batted hard he was effective in the pinches.

TACOMA'S WINNING STREAK.
Tacoma, June 5.—The Tigers fell on Pat Butler, ex-Giant, now wearing a Portland uniform, in the first and fifth innings of yesterday's game, and captured the eighth game of the series, 5 to 2. This makes seven out of eight for the Tigers, and the hunch is feeling pretty cheaty. Of the ten hits secured by the Bengals, eight were bunched in, two innings and five runs were the result.
Annis won his third game against the roadsters in the present series, but presented the visitors with one of their runs.

Lynch is claiming that he will be on the top of the pile during the coming series with Victoria. Duke Campbell, a local boy, pitched the last three innings for the visitors, and made such a good impression that it is possible he will be retained by Williams as a member of the regular pitching staff.

NANAIMO EASILY DOWNS LADYSMITH

Result of a Week Ago Re- versed—Final Game Neces- sary to End B. C. Series

Ladysmith, June 5.—Nanaimo United overwhelmed Ladysmith in the second game of the series for the provincial football championship here yesterday by a score of four goals to one. A complete change had been made in Nanaimo's line-up since its defeat of last Sunday
by Ladysmith, and in yesterday's fix-ture the winning team of a week ago was outclassed.

The visiting forwards played an aggressive game throughout and but for bad luck in goal could have piled up a much larger score. Nanaimo scored first when Gibson, the new centre forward, eluding both goals, drove the ball into the net for a goal which Hartley found impossible to save. Ladysmith evened up shortly before half-time,
time in one of their few break-aways.
Shepperd being hurried into the net
with the ball before the opposing backs had a chance to clear. Nanaimo tallied three times during the second half,
which consisted of a continuous attack on the Ladysmith citadel, the goals being scored by Hurren, Gibson and Waddle respectively. The winning team never played a more strenuous game and before half-time had the Ladysmith defence run off its feet.

The two island teams are now tied for first place and a third and final game, the date and grounds for which will be decided at a meeting in Nanaimo to-morrow, is necessary to decide the championship.

Two thousand people witnessed the game. O'Vington, the Nanaimo referee, was satisfactory to both teams.

ISLANDERS PLAYED WELL BUT LOST BOTH

Seattle Had Only a Run to the Good in Each Game Yesterday

Seattle, Wash., June 5.—Seattle won the double-header from Victoria yesterday, taking the first game by the score of 6 to 5, and the second by 2 to 1. Both games were well played, the entire seventeen and a half innings only being marred by a few spots of loose ball. Wiggs, the new Giant pitcher, hooked up with Belford in the first contest, and while his game was won for him in the sixth inning when Seattle slipped four across, through four hits, an error and a questionable play at third base which saved Cruick-shank's base running life, but he nearly dropped it in the eighth and ninth through his own wildness.

Victoria got the jump in the second game by scoring first blood in the second inning when Householder, who got life on an error at first base, went to third when nobody covered second on Ort's throw and came in on a passed ball. Seattle tied the score in the fifth when Skeels drove in a run with a nice single, and took the winning tally in the eighth on Leard's hit for two bases, advanced on an out and scored from second when MacMurdo let a hot one go through him.

FAMOUS PEDESTRIAN IS NOW IN VICTORIA

Gottfried Rodrigues, World's Champion, Arrives Here on Trip Around World

Gottfried Rodrigues, better known as Godfrey Road, world's champion pedestrian and holder of three gold medals for various walking stunts he had indulged in, arrived in town from Vancouver yesterday on his tramp around the world from Amsterdam, Holland.

Wagering $5000 with a newspaper man upon the result, Rodrigues started from Amsterdam two and a half years ago, without a cent in his pocket and depending entirely on his own resources, which, by the way, are many,
to keep himself alive. He journeyed through every city of any note in Europe dressed as a Dutch peasant, and after many amusing and sometimes unpleasant adventures, departed on the Princess Irene from Messina, Italy, for America, one year ago. On more than one occasion he was arrested for blockading the traffic, his baggy trousers and wooden shoes attending such an unusual sight that, in any city outside of Holland, he never failed to attract a large crowd.

The globe-trotter is an accomplished musician and lecturer, and his entertainments, during which, with the aid of lantern slides, he describes his travels and adventures, have always been well received in this country and in Europe.

Rodrigues holds records for walking from London to Edinburgh, Paris to Lyons, Geneva to Lugano, Amsterdam to Penlo, Milan to Naples, and San Francisco to Los Angeles. On landing at New York he was presented with a gold medal by Richard K. Fox, of the Police Gazette.

After a stay of a few days in Victoria the walker proposes going to Mexico, whence he will take ship to Yokohama and thence across Japan and China to Holland. He expects to finish the entire trip around the world in three and a half years. It may be mentioned that Rodrigues is not now so conspicuous on the streets as he was, as, owing to his desire to make a fast time, he was compelled to change his Dutch costume for that of an ordinary pedestrian while in Los Angeles.

The Hollander, who will be seen at one of the local theatres this week, is built on perfect athletic lines. He is 5'8" feet tall, weighs about 145 pounds, has a broad chest, narrow waist and long, slim legs.

Adopting the principle of the Daylight Savings Bill, some departments of the English home office are taking advantage of the long days to start work an hour earlier and thus have more time in the evening for recreation. The local government board is following suit.

AMUSING BALL AT THE ROYAL ATHLETIC PARK

Hills and Giants Defeat Prides and Bays in Very Ragged Games

In the two games of senior ball at the Royal Athletic park on Saturday afternoon the Hills gained an easy victory over the Prides, 14 to 4, and the Giants noosed out ahead of the Bays in the last inning, winning by a score of 14 to 13.
This places the Hills at the top in the league standing, with 1000, the Bays and Giants second, with 500; and the Prides in the cellar with 500.

The phrase "amateur ball" may serve as a partial explanation, but it cannot entirely account for the grotesque exhibition witnessed by the small crowd of fans present. If it was intended as a burlesque on what the professionals did one afternoon a week or so ago and staged simply for the purpose of causing amusement, it filled its part to a nicety. For instance, when "Blondy" Bain, the Prides' centre fielder, after executing as pretty a steal as could be imagined, slid gracefully into third and then wished to claim "right of way" over the base-runner already on the sack, the fun reached an uproarious pitch.

"Blondy" occupied the limelight on another occasion, when, with the ball slightly hidden behind his back, he craftily stalked a runner on second. Much to his disgust his prey took alarm before the coveted distance had been covered and "Blondy," modestly accepting the unstinted applause as a tribute to his tricky headwork, returned to his position. The "big leaguer," as he was dubbed, was not the

VANCOUVER 1ST XI VS. ALBION 1ST XI.

After the slight showers of the early morning a gentle breeze prevailed with the sun shining brightly. The grounds at Beacon Hill look better than ever, having the table and outfield well cut though the outfield might be more improved by removing the tall isolated spears of grass which retard the progress of grounders.

After the loss, which Captain Hodges won, and a warning up practice all round, Vancouver decided to send Albion to the bat, a pleasant surprise for the latter team. H. F. Hewett and H. O. Kirkham were selected as umpires. He it said to their credit, the confidence reposed in them was not misplaced, and the wisdom of selecting competent umpires was demonstrated. Both men made numerous decisions on b. b. w. run outs, etc. with general satisfaction.

Peers opened the bowling from the club house end followed by Hodges from the bowling green end. In Hodges, first over H. A. Ismay was neatly taken in the slips by Peers. Telegraph 6-1-5. Trimen then came, seemed at home from the start, playing with perfect confidence and executing many pretty and effective strokes. Crossfield relieved Peers; then Payne, Hodges; then Shotton took Crossfield's end finally breaking the stand by clean bowling. Idioms who had contributed a useful 17. Payley fell a victim to the next delivery, score 58-4-0. E. W. Ismay joined Trimen playing to the hour when none can or wish to refuse the hospitality of Mrs. White in the luncheon marquee.

Upon the resumption of hostilities, many would-be spectators passed on because of the lack of seats, but the number who were willing to tempt Providence by sitting on the ground formed a fringe around the field of play.

The versatile Hodges decided on a new plan of attack, instructing Payne to display his ability as an underhand bowler. Underhand in cricketing parlance does not imply a mean advantage, but the apparent simplicity of the balls which clean bowled five of Albion's batsmen made it look as though the batsmen were hypnotized. Mr. Trimen was the first victim returning to the club house amid a round of applause for his excellent work. Telegraph 91-4-41.

E. W. Ismay was now going strong and with Pegler added 16 runs before the stonewall Gregson was called upon to help Ismay carry his individual score to 52 at which time the board read 141 for 6 wickets. Great work! was the expression heard on every side. Ismay's scoring was the most rapid completion of the day and with Trimen, shared the honors of the innings.

The last four wickets were all secured by Payne, who from the time he started his protechnics had an analysis of 52 balls, 5 wickets, 14 runs and 2 maidens. Gregson and Maiden made the tall was and materially aided in bringing the grand total to 177. The Vancouver men were free to confess that 177 looked a long way off. The old standby, Armitage received Parsons first over and on his third ball made a hit over long on's head that might have been good for 8 on an open field. There was nothing slow about the way Vancouver went after those runs, neither was there about Albion's fielding, as Clayton found to his sorrow, when Pegler reliving a hot one from Armitage knocked down Clayton's stumps before he could return to his crease after backing up. Score 26-1-15.

Crossfield was beaten by Mahon, then Peers and Armitage started after that score again—Peers did not relish E. W. Ismay's bowling. Ismay going nice Parsons made a pretty pull for four, then placed a catch in point's hands, made another feeble attempt to play the ball, then returned a please-accept-me catch to the bowler. In the Vancouver team all are pretty bats and all dangerous. Armitage only bats for the pleasure of the exercise otherwise much time would be saved by writing 45 for his score and allowing others to bat, 42 was his exact score. Payne and he having taken the total to 159. Shotton was run out by a smart piece of fielding. After that despite repeated changes in the bowling department the score mounted by leaps and bounds, Payne doing most of the punishing. Hodges ran high but the Albion score was passed 147-6-13.

Excitement ran high but the Albion score was passed before the next two wickets fell over 181. Ten runs later Mr. Payne stopped a straight one with his leg being the ninth man out for a sterling 82, which included five fours and a six. To him undoubtedly belongs the lion's share of Vancouver's victory.

For the third time within a week Albion have just missed a possible win against formidable opponents. At this rate Albion will give a good account of themselves in Tournament week. The score follows:

ESQUIMALT V. VICTORIA TEAM "B"
Esquimalt made their debut in fast company by filling an unceremonious ly vacated Garrison engagement. The features of the innings were the batting of Captain Vivian, the wicket-keeping of T. B. Tye and the bowling of J. C. Barnacle, the K. C. B. and L. S. V. bowling the only maidens in the entire game.

Then the long-pent-up batting energies of the V. C. C. riotously broke forth and the first double century total of the year was made for eight wickets. There were no less than thirty-five fours and three sixes in this batting fest.

For those who performed and how well they performed see score appended:

HIGH V. COLLEGIATE SCHOOLS
The early hours of the day found the last game of Victoria's junior games being played on the Jubilee Hospital grounds. High school were two short but nothing daunted went in to win. Win they did by the narrow margin of one run. This is how it happened:

For Collegiate, who batted first, Clinton was the only one to secure double figures and his was a not out seventeen. Warnicker was their stumbling block as the bowling analysis shows. To be sure he was ably assisted by the fielding, not only while he was bowling but also during his spectacular innings of twenty-five, for he was missed no less than four times on matches and once should have been run out.

Although it was the Collegiate's own fault that they lost, a word of praise is due the High School who have, unassisted and against adverse circumstances, coached themselves and played all their games.

The winning run was made while short slip and long stop were holding a heated argument regarding the final restoration of the Jews as the ball, to which they should have given attention, was going merrily by. The scorer also must have been overcome with excitement as no bye is recorded. Thus ends the beginning of what is hoped will be the greatest stride in Victoria cricket, the producing of home talent from the younger generation. Many of the boys show promise of bright futures and should now be taken in hand and developed.

In England on Saturday Hampshire beat Derbyshire by twenty runs.

SPORT NOTES

Victoria goes to Tacoma this week to play the Tigers, Seattle to Spokane and Portland to Vancouver.

A small crowd saw the opening game of the National Lacrosse league at Toronto on Saturday between the Toronto's and Capitals of Ottawa. The game was too one-sided to be interesting. In the first quarter the Toronto's scored five goals. Capitals nil. The final score was Toronto 13, Capitals 6.

The Whitnuttie fete and brilliant weather attracted record crowds to the Chantilly race track at Paris yesterday, where the feature was the Prix Diana. (The French Oaks), a stake valued at $18,000. William K. Vanderbilt's "Bruce" was a strong favorite, and made the running almost to the stretch, when M. Annon's Rosevert, an outsider in the betting at 20 to 1, came up strongly and won by a length and a half. Bruce finished second, with Marquis Lauriston's Sibylla third.

Boxing fans in all parts of the world will watch the result of the world's middleweight championship bout in London on Thursday between Billy Papke and Jim Sullivan. It will be the final title holder. It will be the first real world's championship fight.

In England for a generation. Sullivan is the best middleweight England has had since the days of Charlie Mitchell and Jack Burke, and is being backed liberally.

"I am going to meet Hugh McIntosh, the promoter, in London," said Jack Johnson, champion heavyweight yesterday, just before he left Chicago for New York. "And if he will give me $30,000 to meet Bombardier Wells over any distance, I will sign the articles on the spot."

Outplayed and outclassed, with brilliancy practically throughout the encounter resting with Con Jones stars, the Vancouver lacrosse team Saturday defeated New Westminster by four goals to two. From the commencement of hostilities until the final gong rang, the eleven thousand spectators were thrilled by the display afforded. The game was fairly even during the first three quarters.

An amateur baseball game which promises to attract considerable attention, owing to the fact that some of the best ball players in town are included in the line-ups, will be played at the Royal Athletic park on Wednesday afternoon, commencing at 4:30 o'clock. The contending teams are the Real Estate nine and the Bankers. It is expected that one of the prominent local bankers will be asked to pitch the first ball. J. Huxtable will umpire. The teams are—Real Estate: F. Moore, p; C. Johns, c; W. Moore, 1b; T. McQueen, 2b; B. Shanks, 3b; Carlow, ss; Raymur, lf; Goward, cf; and G. Bishop, rf. Bankers: S. $10 Cash Gives $15 Profit in Thirty Days

Men who are careful and cautious in business matters, and in particular investors, have seen fit to invest capital in the shares of The British Pacific Coal Company, Limited, held by T. R. Morrow, Trustee. They foresee the great possibilities tributary to the development of the 8,320 acres held by the Company on Graham Island.

On the property Alexander Faulds reports 36,000,000 of tons of coal in one seam, and there are six seams in the property.

Figuring the capitalization on the basis of 35c per share, 36,000,000 of tons of coal cost the investor and shareholders less than 5c per ton. This is a most exceptional proposition and 5c per ton for anthracite coal, which would sell in Vancouver at $15 per ton, figures an enormous profit.

Mr. Faulds is an eminent engineer, a man of 40 years' experience in the development and management of the largest coal fields in America; also in the management of most successful collieries in Great Britain. His report is viewed by Bankers and Investors as being absolutely authentic and very conservative. His statement that there are 36,000,000 of tons of coal in one seam must naturally be viewed as a guarantee of the body of coal represented.

This report means, therefore, that the investor is assured a handsome return.

To use his own words in his report:

"Your properties are very valuable, being of adequate commercial assemblages and magnitude, and excellently located, with their transportation facilities, the potentialities of which, from the estimated quantities of coal they are likely to contain are very vast, and practically unlimited with depth.

"The value of 36,000,000 tons of bituminous coal in your properties for one coal seam six feet thick should be not less than $120 per acre, and anthracite not less than $180 per acre, the mean or average of which would be $150 per acre exclusive of agricultural and timber values.

"These 8,320 acres or thereby are an excellent and adequate commercial assemblage for colliery operations capable of producing a daily output of 1,000 tons for about 144 years.

"Taking the estimated tonnage of 36,000,000 during the life of the mine at $1 per ton, would give a clear profit of $36,000,000 or $22.50 for every dollar invested."

In a few more days it will be impossible for you to secure shares in The British Pacific Coal Company, Limited, which have a par value of $1.00 at the ground floor price of 35c per share.

Remember that the price of the next issue of shares, which will be on the market in a few days' time, will be at least 50c per share, which means that those who buy to-day at 35c per share, actually make 15c per share profit.

Applications will be received by mail or by the Trustee, T. R. Morrow, on such easy terms as 10c per share cash with application and the remainder in three equal monthly payments.

Address your application and make your cheque payable to the order of T. R. Morrow, whose office is situated at 604 Broughton Street, Victoria, B. C. Office is open from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. daily.

VICTORIA ASSIZES BEGAN THIS MORNING

Grand Jury Instructed as to Cases Before Them by Mr.
Justice Murphy

The grand jury this morning presented true bills against Hand and Molloy, the two boys who were indicted for highway robbery from a Chin-ese boy. A true bill was also returned against George Lloyd Faulkner, the Vancouver real estate man on four counts.

The grand jury consists of Beaumont Boggs (foreman), M. Kane, H. R. Cullen, R. Irskine, Hy R. Ellis, G. T. Fox, J. L. Ermistone, J. P. Hibben, A. H. Maynard, Hy McCandless, Samuel Martin and James Thompson.

His lordship, Mr. Justice Murphy, instructed the grand jury in the duties before it. The first indictment drawn to the grand jury's attention was that against Hand and Molloy. His lordship then referred to the indictment against Geo. Lloyd Faulkner, against whom there are four counts—first, carnal knowledge; second, illicit con-nection; third, seduction under prom-ise of marriage, and fourth, indecent assault.

The indictments against Boscowitz charged with rape at Prince Rupert and the indictment against Capt. Al-bert Sears were mentioned, the jury being instructed if evidence of neglect were shown in the latter case they should return a true bill.

The grand jury then withdrew, hav-ing been informed that seven were necessary to find a true bill.

This afternoon found a true bill against Capt. Sears.

NOTED HOTEL TO DISAPPEAR.

New York, June 5.—The Hotel Vic-toria, named in honor of Queen Vic-toria and for many years after its erec-tion the most elaborate of New York hostleries, is to be torn down within the next three years to make way for a 26-story business block. The site at Broadway and Twenty-seventh street involved about $5,000,000. The Victoria is the survivor of the famous group of hotels of thirty years ago, including the Brunswick, the St. James and the Fifth Avenue hotels.

Of the 4,300 known species of flowers, only 429 have an agreeable perfume, the white and cream colored being the sweet-est.

saw Capt. Elliston run towards his office from the yard and collapse. Allen's rifle was produced and identi-fied by the number by the witness. He saw accused in the bushes on Es-quimalt road later in the morning, having been ordered to search for him.

To Mr. Davis—The gun produced is without a fore-sight. I had known Allen two years and during the latter portion of his service he was drinking very heavily. When I found him in the bushes he was very shaky but I could not say anything as to his sober-ness.

Gunner Bryan was called, but at the request of Mr. Davis his evidence will be taken this afternoon at the work point barracks.

Sergt. Major Parley was giving evidence of hearing the shot and seeing Capt. Elliston fall to the ground in the yard of N. 5 company quarters on the morning of the murder, at the time of the adjournment for lunch.

NORTHERN RAILWAY.

Winnipeg, June 5.—Construction will start this year on the Pacific, Peace River and Hudson's Bay rail-ways from Fort Churchill to Port Simpson. Survey parties will leave this week and every effort will be made to have the line in operation within the shortest possible time. Montreal, New York, Toronto and Scotch capitalists have joined with those of Western Canada in financing the project and now have all the re-quired money available.

PORTLAND CIVIC ELECTION.

Portland, Ore., June 5.—The voters of Portland are to-day choosing a full municipal ticket from the mayor on down. The centre of interest is the mayoralty, which by a combination of circumstances has developed into the most interesting race that has taken place here for years.

PASSING SHOW

New Grand Theatre.

The greatest show of all, Barnard's manikins, is being presented at the Grand this week, where the lifelike and mechanical actors are giving "The Coon's Revelry," the Americanized version of the show that Barnard put on in England and the principal European cities. The American production is prepared with the full equipment of electrical wires and "props," carrying the most complete of mechanical equipments on the stage. The act is one specially for children, always causing roars of laughter throughout the house.

Supporting this act are billed Ye Colonial Duo, presenting "An Evening in a Colonial Garden"; Bliss and Bross, a dashing pair; Paul Case and company, in "Fresh From College"; and a soloist
and pianist of distinction, Pearl Young.
She was soloist with Sousa's band.

Among the Canadian Indians.

The Majestic theatre has a big feature for to-day and to-morrow. The story deals with the hardy settlers of Canada and the warring bands of Indians who made the white man's life
one of great danger during the pioneer days. A trapper working for the Hudson Bay Company, while on night watch in camp accidentally kills a friendly Indian, mistaking him in the dim light for a bear. The relatives of the dead Indian determine to take revenge and when the trapper is alone
they round him up and his only avenue of escape is a leap for life from a cliff in the rocks. He makes the leap but without success, although he catches the shrubbery on the opposite side, he falls to the depths below, his inanimate body is discovered by an Indian girl, who nurses him back to life. His leap from the cliff is thrilling, and the reproduction of the fine scenery from the Canadian Northwest would make this

"Fifty Years Ago" is the story of two men of to-day, grizzled veterans who were boyhood friends until the American Civil war broke out, when, as numerous cases showed, even fathers and sons fought each other on opposing sides. So it is not surprising to find the two pals, one of whom loves the other's sister, meet in an engagement on the field. But the story is not woven as told here. It all comes back to the grizzled veterans years after the war is over. They fight the battles over again, but one of them carries an empty sleeve—and proud he is of the stamp at that.

"Sunshade and Tantalina in an Aero-

the season. There are also three more

The Evening
Chit-Chat

By Ruth Cameron

Have you—"you"
this time means particularly the housewives of the middle class—read
Will Carleton's
"One Way Out?"
If you haven't,
you should at once.
No, I am not attempting to pre-
sage the book.
I am merely voicing a warm conviction.

"One Way Out"
is the story of a man who is typically
of the modest salaried middle class, with a standard of living just above its means.

At the age of thirty-eight this man,
with very little laid by and a wife and boy of eleven dependent upon him, loses his position. He has only a highly specialized knowledge, almost useless outside of the office where he has been employed for many years, and when he starts his hunt for employment he is unanimously turned down by employers; who all want younger men or men with some more specific training.

After some horrible weeks of this humiliating and hopeless hunting he happens to find out by accident that Murphy, the man who empties his ashes, is building houses and putting his sons through college. He looks about him and realizes that not only Murphy but other immigrants are making good to an astonishing degree and he suddenly thinks he sees "one way out"— that is, to immigrate to America and start where the immigrant does and take what offers regardless of pride of class. His wife approves. They sell their furniture and with $100 clear start life anew in one of Murphy's tenements
—rent $3 a week.

The next day he secures work as a laborer with a subway construction gang at $1.50 a day. He has emigrated to America and they begin the new life
by looking about them to find what opportunities and possibilities are open to them.

How, with this new point of view, he works back to prosperity again, how his wife helps him, and how they save on $9 a week where they hadn't been able to on $30, is the rest of the tale.

It is a thoroughly original, thought-provoking little story, but it is particularly because of the part that Ruth, his wife, takes, that I want you, middle class women to read it.

Her studies in economy—the economy of thrifty buying, not merely of doing without, ought to be suggestive to every woman who is appalled by the high cost of living.

Here are one or two samples of this:
"Now for breakfast we must have oatmeal every morning. And we'll get it in bulk. I've priced it and it's only a

"And the kind we've always had?"
"About twelve when it's done up in

They visited the wholesale meat shops and familiarized themselves with the possibilities there.

"Every stall in the market had its bargains of meat—wholesale bits unattractive to the careless customer. We bought here for 50 cents enough round steak for several good meals of hash.

"We couldn't have bought it for less than a dollar in the suburbs, and even at that we wouldn't have known anything about it, for the store was too far for Ruth to make a personal visit and the butcher himself would never have mentioned such an odd end to a member of our neighborhood."

These are one or two suggestions of the way in which Ruth made it possible to save on nine dollars a week. I wish there were room for more, but I hope I've given enough to impel you to go to your library for the book.

To the average housewife who gives her orders to a boy at the door or over the telephone, and who buys with no idea at all of nutriment values, it seems to me that Ruth's studies in true economy can't fail to be a thought provoking lesson.

OBITUARY RECORD

The death occurred at the Royal Jubilee hospital this morning of Mrs. Elizabeth Mary Machin, aged 45, a native of Staffordshire, England. The deceased had resided in Victoria for the past four years. She is survived by a husband and three children. The remains have been removed to the Victoria Undertaking Parlors, whence the funeral will take place at a date to be announced later.

Frank John Grimm, aged 19 years and 8 months, passed away yesterday at the family residence, Boleskin road. The deceased was a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Grimm, was born in Victoria, and was a tinsmith by trade. He had been employed of late at W. J. Pen-dray's soap factory. A father and mother, four brothers and two sisters living here; one sister in Juneau, Alaska, and another in Vancouver, the latter two sisters of St. Ann, survive. The funeral has been arranged to take place on Wednesday at 8.15 a.m. from the B. C. Funeral Furnishing Parlors, and at 9 from St. Andrew's cathedral.

The funeral of James Houlahan, who died at Jordan Road on Saturday, has been arranged to take place from the family residence on Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, and at 9 from St. Andrew's cathedral. Deceased was 58 and a native of Broom, County Limerick, Ireland.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Annie Hill took place from the B. C. Funeral Furnishing Parlors at 2.30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, under the auspices of the Odd Fellows and the Sisters of Berea. There was a large attendance of friends, among them a delegation from the local Order of Owls, and many flowers were sent. Services at the parlors were conducted by Bro. D. Dewar, assisted by Bro. J. McLean, of the Odd Fellows, and at the graveside Sister Lotimer, noble grand; Sister Hay, vice-grand, and Sister Bell, chaplain, of the Sisters of Berea, officiated. The pallbearers were: J. Wilby, B. Deacon, J. C. Hay, B. Lawson, A. Milne and L. Whitlaw, all I. O. O. F. members. Interment was made in the Ross Bay cemetery.

The death occurred at the Jubilee hospital yesterday of Phillip Norris Mussen, aged 52, a native of the province of Quebec. The deceased resided on Broughton street. He is survived by relatives in the east. The funeral will take place on Wednesday at 2.30 p.m. from the B. C. Funeral Furnishing Parlors.

The funeral of Gillio Serrand took place this afternoon at 3 o'clock from the B. C. Funeral Furnishing Parlors, where services were conducted by Rev. T. W. Gladstone. There was a large attendance of the employees of the Empress hotel, where deceased had worked. Interment was made in Ross Bay cemetery.

The funeral of the late George McIntyre Whitten took place on Saturday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the B. C. Funeral Furnishing Parlors, where Rev. A. N. Miller officiated. Interment was made in the Ross Bay cemetery. The pallbearers were: Frank Jones, Bert Jones, J. Jones, P. Prigett, T. Steele and S. McLean.

The death occurred at French Creek of Mrs. Maria Lee, aged 87 years, widow of the late Henry Lee, of Bandon, Cork, Ireland, and daughter of the late Robert Levers, of Castle Levers, Limerick.

STORY OF ROYAL CROWNS OF ENGLAND

Wealth of History Surrounds Headpieces of British Sovereigns

(Montreal Herald).

As coronation date approaches and the eyes of the whole Empire are even now largely directed to London, to the events in progress there and to the celebrations that are to come within the next few weeks—some account of the royal crowns of England, which will play a prominent part in the central ceremony on the historic occasion will be of interest.

It may come as a surprise to many people to be told that few persons know what a wealth of history clusters round the royal crown. Few indeed know how many English crowns there really are and still fewer know that the crown they see engraved and embossed and drawn wherever it is desired to portray royalty in robes of state is a representation of a crown which not only does not exist but which has never existed.

Part of the regalia dates back to the time of Edward the Confessor, but the crown is decidedly modern, although the jewels are historic.

The revolutionary days of 1648, were bad days for the crown as well as for its wearer. In 1649 Parliament ordered the regalia to be delivered to the trustees for the sale of the goods of the late king, who were to cause the same to be totally broken, and melt down all the gold and silver, and sell the jewels to the best advantage of the Commonwealth.

At the inventory then taken we find mention of "The Imperial Crown of massy gold," "The Queen's Crown of massy gold," "A small Crown found in an iron chest" (this was the Crown of Edward VI.), "Queen Edith's Crown, formerly thought to be of massy gold but upon trial found to be of silver gilt," and "King Alfred's Crown, of soule wyer worke." To the inventory is added the words: "The forementioned Crowns, since ye inventorye was taken, are according to order of Parliament totally broken and defaced."

The values placed upon the Crowns in the inventories are, respectively, £1,110, £238, £275, £16, £248. But when King Charles came back to his own again an order was given to Sir Robert Vyner to provide new regalia, and Sir Robert's receipt for £21,978 9s 11d is still in existence, this being for two Crowns, two sceptres, an orb, St. Edward's staff, the Armilla and the Ampull. But he provided other matters, and his bill altogether came to £32,000. Sir Edward Walker, Garter King of Arms, in his account of the coronation of King Charles II., says of the regalia, "all which doe now retayne the old names and fashion, although they have been newly made." The Crowns are thus described: "Two Imperial Crowns sett with precious stones, the one to be called, St. Edward's Crown, wherewith the king was to be crowned, and the other to be put on after his coronation, before His Majesty's returne to Westminster hall."

In all essential details, and no doubt in material also, though it has unquestionably been altered slightly from time to time, St. Edward's crown is still as it was made by Sir Robert Vyner. It consists of a rim of gold ornamented with various jewels, rubies, emeralds and sapphires of some size, each surrounded in the form of a rosette by a circle of diamonds. Along the upper and lower edges of the rim are single rows of pearls, and on the rim are six four crosses patee and four fleurs-de-lis of gold alternately, all adorned with diamonds and other precious stones.

From the tops of the crosses two gold arches, similarly rimmed with pearls and ornamented with gems rise and cross each other, curving downwards again to the point of intersection. At the point of intersection there is a mound or orb of gold encircled by a gemmed band, and from this rises a similar band at right angles. On the top of the cross is a large round pearl. Two large pear-shaped pearls hang from projections on the arms of the cross. The cap of this crown is of crimson velvet turned up with miniver. This is the official crown wherewith a king is crowned. But it is nothing like so gorgeous as the state crown.

The state crown is practically remade for every sovereign. Charles II.'s state crown—the one stolen by Col. Blood, 13th May, 1671—was taken to pieces, and the gold setting of it, in which the jewels had been, passed into the possession of the late Lord Amherst of Hackney, as did the settings of the crowns of George IV. and William IV.

The present state crown was made in 1838 for Queen Victoria, and remade, with no perceptible alteration of design, by Messrs. Garrard & Co., of the Haymarket, for King Edward. Such alteration as may be necessary for King George is also entrusted to them. Some of the gems have had remarkable histories. The great sapphire which was in the crown of Charles II. passed with the Stuarts into exile, and was bequeathed by Cardinal York to George III.

This is set in the rim of the crown, and in the centre of the cross patee of diamonds immediately above is a wonderful ruby, which has always had the place of honor. It is of an irregular pear shape, about two inches in length, and has at some time been pierced. In the hole, however, a smaller ruby has been set in gold. This jewel was originally the property of the King of Granada, and in 1367 Don Pedro, King of Castile, murdered his neighbor for the sake of his jewels, of which this was one. The tradition is that Don Pedro gave it to the Black Prince after the battle of Najera in the same year, and Henry V. wore it in his crown at the battle of Agincourt.

The weight of the crown is 39oz. 5dwt. As remade for King Edward, in addition to the large ruby and the large sapphire, the crown contains four rubies, 11 emeralds, 16 sapphires, 297 pearls and 2818 diamonds, there being 20 more pearls and 35 more diamonds than in the time of Queen Victoria.

The crown worn by Queen Alexandra at the coronation of King Edward, which was made specially for that occasion, was an exceedingly handsome one. This contained 3,971 diamonds. Upon the plain diamond-encrusted rim were set three crosses patee and as many fleurs-de-lis, and from each rose a diamond studded arch, all six meeting in the centre to support an orb and cross of diamonds. Some of the diamonds were crown jewels, others were temporarily acquired, the crown being broken up again immediately after the coronation.

There is, however, another queen's crown in existence. It is entirely composed of diamonds that were crown jewels, others were temporarily set there. This crown is represented on the jubilee coinage of Queen Victoria. She found the state crown heavy to wear, and she disliked the irritating safeguards, which attended any use of it, and at her own personal expense she had this smaller crown made. Under her will it passed to Queen Alexandra and the Queen's consort for the time being as an heirloom. The open crown represented as worn on the later coinage of Queen Victoria never had any existence.

ACTION AGAINST PRESIDENT OF U. S.

Petition for Injunction in Connection With Alaskan Coal Lands

Seattle, Wash., June 5.—Principles of government by injunction is to be applied to President William H. Taft in a suit which is now being drawn in Seattle, and within a few days will be filled with the Supreme Court of the United States.

In the petition the highest judicial tribunal in the country is asked to grant an injunction directing the president of the United States to rescind an order by which all coal lands in Alaska were withdrawn from entry. The complaint directs the court's attention to the fact that the order is illegal; that the purpose for which it was made no longer exists, and that the president exceeded the authority vested in him by the national legislature.

DOG ATTACKS GIRL.

Chicago, June 5.—Miss Elmira Park, the 17-year-old daughter of W. L. Park, vice-president and general manager of the Illinois Central Railroad, was attacked yesterday by a $5,000 prize-winning Boston terrier, belonging to her father, which she was taking for a walk. Miss Park, whose clothing was torn to shreds by the animal, was saved from serious injury by John A. Power, Jr., who lives next door to the Parks. He was severely bitten before he subdued the dog. The animal was taken to a veterinary surgeon, where it will be kept under close observation for symptoms of rabies. The dog won first prize at the last New York dog show.

DYNAMITE SEIZED.

Salonia, Turkey, June 5.—Big stores of dynamite and a complete apparatus for the making of bombs have been discovered in a secluded dell in the Kopsuclie district. The explosives were found close to the railway over which Sultan Mehmed of Turkey would pass on a forthcoming tour of Macedonia.

BOY SCOUTS AID IN ARREST OF FUGITIVE

Trail Suspected Assailant of Chief of Police of Red Deer

Calgary, June 5.—Within six hours after the sensational shooting of Chief of Police Bell, of Red Deer, on Thursday night the boy scouts of the town rounded up Arthur Francis Kelly, and the police think they have their man.

The finding of a black leather mask with unevenly cut eyeholes by Constable McFarlane and Scoutmaster Gibson is thought to complete the last link in the chain of evidence. The chief of police gave evidence Friday against Kelly, his bedroom in the hospital being transformed into a temporary courtroom with Kelly ironed under a very strong guard at his bedside.

The capture of Kelly was sensational. Early in the morning the town was roused and well organized posse were sent out to scour the country. The Boy Scouts set out with the others and accompanied by a dog traversed the country north of the hospital where there is dense underbrush.

About a mile and a half from the city the dog came upon a man sleeping soundly in the underbrush and gave an alarm to the boys. The boys under Scouts Phil Galbraith, Sprague and Stone promptly drew a cordon around the patch and sent two of their number running toward the town for assistance.

By means of the scout signal code a message was flashed to scouts nearer the city and the messengers reached the station just as another posse was starting out which climbed into a waiting automobile.

In the meantime Kelly, roused from his sleep, threatened the scouts with his revolver. The boys took refuge behind trees and trailed him from one patch of brush to another. Several times Kelly threatened to shoot, but one of the boys named Mott knew him as he had been getting his meals at the Mott home. Kelly says he "did not like to shoot the kid."

Five Chief Meers' arrival on the ground ended the desperate scene and the fugitive was arrested and taken to town.

Kelly is about 25 years of age. When found he was mud bespattered, hatless and had a .32 calibre revolver in his hand. A hat which has been identified as his was found down town near the point where the shooting occurred, and later the mask was found in the underbrush. Chief of Police Bell partially identified the man as his assailant.

U. S. REPRESENTATIVE SEEKS INFORMATION

Secretary of State Asked for Explanation Regarding Proposed Arbitration Treaty

Washington, D. C., June 5.—Inquiring whether the proposed American-British arbitration treaty is directed against Germany, Representative Hamill, of New Jersey, has introduced a resolution in the House calling on the secretary of state for an explanation. Mr. Hamill bases his demand on the alleged endorsement by United States Consul General Griffiths of London, of a recent speech in parliament by Sir Edward Grey, the minister of foreign affairs, in which the latter intimated "strongly that such was the aim of the treaty proposed by President Taft. Mr. Hamill characterized Mr. Griffiths' endorsement as "offensive to the majority of American citizens."

HOTEL DESTROYED.

Vancouver, June 5.—The report has reached here that McIntyre & Raymond's hotel at Steamboat has been destroyed by fire. The hotel was perhaps more of a boarding house than an hotel, but was patronized to capacity.

POLO MATCH.

London, June 5.—The Royal Horse Guards have won the polo cup presented for annual competition by Harry Payne Whitney, defeating the Pilgrims by nine goals to five in the final match played this afternoon at Richmond.

POLICE AND ROBBERS FIGHT.

Denver, Colo., June 5.—Trained to their room in a hotel, two highwaymen made a stand against three policemen at an early hour on Saturday, and in the battle which followed one of the robbers, James Lynch, was perhaps mortally wounded.

Frank Ince, companion of Lynch, was taken into custody. They had held up several street cars.

TROUBLE FEARED IN NORTHERN MEXICO

Strong Forces of Federals and Rebels Concentrated at Chihuahua

Juarez, June 5.—With Francisco I. Madero, Jr., out of immediate communication the position of the insurrecto army in northern Mexico Saturday became perplexing. Abram Gonzalez, named as provisional governor of Chihuahua, was about to proceed to the capital when he received word that the minister of war would not allow him, with armed insurrectos, to enter the city by railroad.

About 5,000 federal troops, under General Villar and Babago, are concentrated at the capital. Outside the city 3,000 insurrectos are encamped, and soon are to be reinforced by others marching from Casas Grandes under General Orozco.

A telegram from Chihuahua Saturday stated that the patience of the insurrectos desiring to enter the city is giving way, and that they are being restrained only by severe measures. Fears were entertained that if the insurrectos entered the city they might precipitate a clash out of revenge for certain acts attributed to federals in early battles near Aldama and Pederñales—acts which the insurrectos looked upon as atrocities.

Every indication is that the insurrectos' leaders are anxious to disarm a large portion of their army, for, although generally the soldiers have been orderly, many depredations continue. It is necessary to feed the insurrectos, and civilians are still being compelled to contribute supplies in exchange for a "receipt."

At Colonia Dublan, the centre of a large Mormon colony, between Juarez and Chihuahua, a band of insurrectos tore up the truck gardens for miles around. In consequence all the Jeto politicians have been instructed to issue certificates to all regular soldiers and to treat all others as outlaws.

Cruz Rey, the jefe politico of Guadalupe, who was deposed by Madero, and who later fought with the federals, is still in jail here accused of connection with a plot to blow up the ballroom in which Madero was dancing the night before he left for Mexico City.

PREPARING FOR CORONATION.

London, June 5.—The dignity and state of the British capital's public buildings, principal parks and streets are being sacrificed to the demands of coronation visitors and sightseers. The whole neighborhood of parliament, including the yards of Westminster Abbey and the parliament buildings, is covered with unexciting wooden stands.

Military contingents from distant colonies have begun to arrive. The many uniforms and the picturesque costumes of Indian potentates are already giving the town a festive appearance.

John Hays Hammond, the special ambassador to represent the United States, will be among the first special ambassadors to arrive. He does not assume his function until June 12, when he will be officially welcomed by the King.

CONGRATULATE THE KING.

Winnipeg, June 5.—Secretary Smith, of the Canadian Club, despatched the following cable to the King Saturday:

"Knollys, London—Please convey to His Majesty King George on the anniversary of his birthday the congratulations of the seventy associated Canadian Clubs and express their loyalty to his person and the Empire."

"(Signed) R. H. SMITH, Secy. Association of Canadian Clubs."

The answer was received:

"I am commanded by the King to thank the seventy associated Canadian Clubs for their loyal good wishes."

"(Signed) KNOLLYS."

SEVENTEEN-YEAR LOCUST.

Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y., June 5.—What local naturalists say is the 17-year locust is here in full force. Trees throughout the town are alive with the insects and the humming sound produced by the swarms can be heard in all parts of the village. The characteristic "W" is noticed at the tip of the insects' wings.

ACCIDENTAL DEATH.

New Westminster, June 3.—The jury empanelled by Coroner Pittendrigh to look into the case of Andrew Johnson, the Fraser Mills workman who was run down and killed by a train at Fraser Mills, returned a verdict to the effect that deceased came to his death by accident and that no blame for the unfortunate occurrence attaches to anybody.

In the will of a Mme. Oddolay, who died recently at Lessard-en-Bresse (Saone-et-Loire), was a bequest of a farm (rental value $200) to the municipality on condition that her family vault was kept in repair. The rest of her property was to be divided amongst those attending her funeral. All these were, therefore, given tickets, with instructions in each case to send it to Mme. Oddolay's lawyer. The latter has received 140 of these cards, and the senders will be the recipients of substantial amounts.

CLEVER BANK SWINDLER.

Obtains Guarantees From Employees and Then Decamps.

A man named Horstmann, in a high position in the Lichtenberg suburb of Berlin, has decamped after committing frauds to the extent of $30,000. He was formerly a member of the town council and a church elder. His frauds are not so remarkable for their extent as for the ingenious way in which they were thought out.

Having started a small bank, which was not very successful, he hit on the expedient of engaging bank assistants, each of whom was obliged to deposit $500 as a sort of guarantee. Something like 30 assistants were engaged, and were employed by Horstmann in making inquiries in all parts of Berlin with regard to the solvency or otherwise of bogus customers of the bank. These men made their reports to Horstmann in his private house. They never saw the bank, and never saw or knew one another. As soon as matters became too hot the "banker" decamped.

LABOR CONDITIONS ON ETHICAL PLANS

Settlement of Conflict Between Labor and Capital on Scientific Lines

A problem which is forcing itself upon the attention of economists and practical statesmen of a philosophic turn of mind who look a little farther than the questions that form the subjects of immediate legislation is a revision of the standard of the valuation of labor.

It is really surprising how general the opinion has become that the Pierpont Morgans and the John D. Rockfellow of the race have been very considerably overpaid for the very doubtful services they have rendered. There are a good many people who think and who say that millions of people could live in comfort on the money that multi-millionaires have been enabled to deflect through the medium of complex legal and industrial systems from the pockets of the people.

And so it is with the financial magnates of varying degrees of importance. Possibly the extensive literature that has grown up around the doings of the homes of American millionaires and their families, who make their homes most of the year in Europe, has done more to help people to some such conclusion than the study of economic text books.

On the other side are the Keir Hardies and the Robert Blatchfords who would deny to capital even a reasonable recompense for the work it does and who would bring everything down to the dead level of socialist equality.

The two view points are widely enough asunder to give an adjuster plenty of room to operate, and it need cause no surprise that several have essayed the task. The most notable theory that attracts attention at the moment is that of a French physician, Prof. A. Imbert of the University of Montpellier, who has conceived the idea of fixing the value of labor by scientific research.

The lessons of experiments extending over a period of twenty years point to the ultimate settlement of labor disputes by inflexible rules resulting in a general satisfaction on the part of both employees and employers as well as the abolition of overwork.

The practical application of this scientist's theories already has been made in the case of a disagreement between the forces of labor and capital governing one of the homely industries in the neighborhood where he lives, with a resultant mutual contentment. He is of the opinion that the same theories can be applied to most industries with a similar outcome.

Beginning with a modest argument, perhaps diffident would be the better word, he gradually works up to a strong position in his endeavor to establish the hypothesis that a medical campaign is needed for social reorganization. He admits that it is an unexpected proposition which he puts forward, but he makes the plea that only physicians understand the needs of the human organism, and its capacity for work.

He has chosen an American medium, the Post-Graduate Medical School and Hospital, New York City, to make known to the medical profession the results of his investigations, for the reason, he says, "that the United States of America is the country of initiative."

"One cannot help recognizing," says Prof. Imbert, "that medicine, without disregarding the care due to the individual for the treatment of pathological conditions, gathers daily more information on factors and conditions of existence capable of exercising a general sanitary influence on large numbers of human beings collectively, and thus, aside from individual medication, a general and social system of medicine is being developed, with an ever broadening field of action. Its benefits are plainly visible from day to day, but the difficulties encountered in its practical application increase the less they are of a medical nature."

"However, it may be an unexpected proposition to raise labor conditions, which are generally regarded as of purely economic importance, to the ethical plane of, say, the treatment of tuberculosis, or typhoid fever, which is no doubt of a strictly medical character. But professional achievements, such as the discovery of bacilli of Koch, Eberth, and others, are capable of effecting the collective health in different ways, but if there is no analogy in their causes the resulting morbid condition can be prevented only after the causative factor becomes known."

"Instead of advancing the proposition that the working conditions of the laboring populace are outside the physician's province, it should be acknowledged as a matter of principle that any and every question into which labor enters as a factor of whatever nature bears as such a medical character."

"Helmoltz, Hirn, Meldenheim, and others certainly set themselves the task of determining the productive value of the animated motor apparatus, the muscle; Cheveau has thrown a clear light on the mysterious nature of muscle power; Atwater has experiments on nutrition and work; Mosso and many others have worked with the ergostat, studying the fatigue produced by it on themselves and on animals."

"There can be no doubt either that from this collection of researches the general physiological laws will have to conform in using the animated motor mechanism in the production of energy. But that day is far distant; and besides, as soon as all the necessary researches have been made which can now be foreshadowed there will probably still remain the necessity, owing to the very generality of the results obtained, of direct study of the thousand and one varieties of labor. But this is the very work which it seems

Terrible Eczema for 25 Years Cured by Cuticura Remedies

"I have been treated by doctors for twenty-five years for a bad case of eczema on my leg. They did their best, but failed to cure it. My own doctor had advised me to have my leg cut off, but I said I would try the Cuticura Remedies first. He said, 'try them if you like but I do not think they will do any good.' At this time my leg was peeling from the knee down, my foot was like a piece of raw flesh and I had to walk on crutches. I bought a cake of Cuticura Soap, a box of Cuticura Ointment and a bottle of Cuticura Resolvent. After the first two treatments the swelling went down and in two months' use of the Cuticura Remedies my leg was cured and the new skin grown on. The doctor could not believe his own eyes when he saw that Cuticura had cured me and said that he would use Cuticura for his own patients. But for the Cuticura Remedies I might have lost my life. I am truly grateful for the wonderful cure that Cuticura wrought. I have many grandchildren and they are frequent users of Cuticura and I always recommend it most highly as a sure and economical cure for skin troubles." (Signed) MME. J. B. RENAUD, 277, Metana St., Montreal.

You Can Try Cuticura Soap and Ointment Free

For more than a generation Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment have afforded the speediest, surest and most economical treatment for torturing, disgusting skin and scalp eruptions, from infancy to age. Cuticura Soap and Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers everywhere, but in order that skin sufferers may prove their efficacy without cost, the Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., 82 Columbus Ave., Boston, U. S. A., will send post-free to any address, a liberal sample of each, with a 32-page book on skin health. Write for a set to-day, even though you have suffered long and hopelessly and have lost faith in everything, for even the first use of Cuticura Soap and Ointment is often sufficient to give instant relief when all else has failed.

useful, and perhaps even urgent, to study in view of the numerous recommendations advanced by the workmen of all nations in regard to their daily toil.

"Whether the workingman's complaints we hear so much about are true or false, the fact remains that they exist; that they should be disentangled with the only object of establishing the truth and of finding out what is correct or erroneous, exaggerated or justified in their demands."

The laws governing the best results of industrial machinery and their limitations have been most carefully established. On the other hand, it is no exaggeration to say that we are far less informed on the possibilities and limitations of the human motor apparatus, and it would seem therefore that there is a gap which we should at least try to bridge over.

"Twenty years ago I, in conjunction with my colleague, Prof. Turc, organized a system of ocular inspection of school pupils; it has for several years past been conducted by Prof. Turc alone. Based upon these inspections, parents are advised what to follow in regard to their power of vision. The medical examination of young men joining the colors is made for the purpose of determining special faculties, and their fitness for various occupations."

It is this system the professor proposes to extend over the whole industrial field, and make the basis of wages computations. He writes out his problems with a wonderful degree of precision, supplementing his statements with tables of figures but even his conclusions are far too elaborate for reproduction here.

LIBERALS DECIDE TO BUILD CLUB

Building to Be Erected at New Westminster at Cost of $150,000

New Westminster, June 3.—A magnificent Liberal Club building will be erected at the junction of Clarkson, Begbie and Lorne streets in the immediate future.

This decision was reached at a meeting of the committee appointed on Friday night to go thoroughly into the question, consider various sites and report. The building is to serve the Westminster federal riding and will be a steel eight story block costing about $150,000.

The ground floor will be devoted to stores and offices, on the first floor will be a splendid club house, the hall seating 500 persons, and the remaining floors will be reserved for offices.

The Liberal candidate, J. W. Weart, attended the meeting, his hearty support of the proposal at the earlier gathering having done much to enthrone members of the association. A. E. Kelington, chairman of the committee, presided, and among those present was the president of the association, George Kennedy.

The name of the club will be "The Westminster District National Liberal Club," and J. H. Diamond is secretary pro temp.

PROBABLY VICTIM OF FOUL PLAY

Mystery Surrounding Death of Man Near Kamloops Still Unsolved

Kamloops, June 3.—The inquest was opened here into the circumstances surrounding the death of Alexander Sinclair, who mysteriously disappeared from Kamloops while in charge of a shipment of horses from Manitoba for Brooks & Co. of Vancouver. Sinclair's body was found in Kamloops lake, near Tranquille, a few days ago. From both the general and the medical evidence given it is quite clear that foul play had been committed. The man only had a few cents in silver on his person when found, although it is known that he had been and was at the time of his disappearance carrying a large sum of money. Dr. Burris who made the post mortem examination testified that there were evidences of head injury either from a blow or a fall. The condition of the lungs precluded the possibility of drowning, and the mystery of Sinclair's death remains unsolved. As there is so little to go on and the evidence as to Sinclair's movements after his horses had been attended to at Kamloops is so uncertain the police have very little hope of clearing up the affair, and it is altogether improbable that those responsible for Sinclair's death will ever be brought to justice. At the close of the evidence obtained by the coroner, the hearing for two weeks in order to obtain the evidence of witnesses from Vancouver and the east.

GIVEN DAMAGES.

New Westminster, June 1.—Damages were given to the plaintiff in the case of Carty vs. British Columbia Electric Railway Company in the assize court. The amount awarded was $11,000, which is a reduction of $2,000 over the verdict given at the last trial. Carty was injured in the catastrophe which occurred at Lakeview in November, 1909, when a flat car loaded with timber and ties crashed into a passenger car crowded with workmen. He was, perhaps, the most seriously injured of those who survived, and sustained a compound fracture of the skull, broken shoulder blade, three broken ribs, a displaced cartilage in the knee, and a number of minor injuries. He claims that he has been unable to work since the accident and expert medical testimony was given that some of the injuries are permanent.

At the last hearing $15,000 were awarded. The B. C. E. R. appealed, and a new trial was ordered which was held before Judge Clement with the above result.

CANOE WAS LEAKY.

Kamloops, June 3.—The provincial police here recovered the body of P. Lyckholm, drowned in Kamloops lake. Lyckholm was a good swimmer, and after being upset started to swim towards shore on his back. Alex Tyrell, who was in another canoe at the time, went to his assistance and Lyckholm told him his clothes were too heavy for him. Tyrell removed part of his clothes and as Lyckholm sank, jumped in after him and after a struggle managed to get hold of him by the hair and swam with him towards shore, but the weight got too much for him and he had to let go. He called for help and immediately dived for Lyckholm but could not find him. They were only about thirty yards from shore. The jury brought in a verdict of accidentally drowned, though going out on the lake in a leaky canoe.

FOR BEATING HORSE.

Vancouver, June 3.—A second-hand dealer named A. Klein, was convicted of cruelly beating a horse. He was sentenced to two months' imprisonment and a fine of $25. If he does not pay the fine he must serve another month in gaol. Klein was found by a policeman beating the horse he was driving. On closer examination the beast was found to be badly wounded, and was taken to the police station where it underwent personal inspection by Magistrate Shaw.

FERNIE FIRE BRIGADE.

Fernie, June 3.—At the last meeting of the city council the fire chief submitted his resignation, to take effect at the pleasure of the council. The resignation was accepted and was laid on the table for the present.

The fire, water and light committee reported that, while they were a unit in their opinion as to the changes that should be made in the conduct of the fire department, they preferred that the matter should be discussed in open council.

Ald. Robertson was of opinion that ten paid men were all that were required on the permanent fire department. He would advise that men should sleep in the hall and be paid a monthly salary, and that outside "volunteers," who now receive pay for each run or practice, should be eliminated. Last month it cost the city over $50 for volunteers who answered alarms.

The fire chief stated that ten men would be sufficient for ordinary fires and would be sufficient to make an efficient department, provided he were allowed to call on volunteers in case of a big fire.

Ald. Robertson would have a permanent assistant chief in the fire hall, as at present, one who could do other work for the city while the chief was in the hall, and who could stay on the floor or sleep in the hall when the chief or driver were absent. His salary would be met by the saving on volunteers and by the saving on odd jobs he could do for the city.

KETTLE VALLEY EXTENSION.

By the end of the year according to reports from the scale of construction, at least 175 miles of the Kettle Valley Railway extension in the Nicola and Boundary country, will be built. At the Merritt end the first 20-mile section will be finished in July. It is asserted the work on the second section will be commenced at once. At the Midway railroad equally good progress is being made.

The contract for the first 15 miles out of Pentlitz, at the foot of Okanagan Lake, will probably be awarded in about two weeks.

Complete plans for the construction of a large wharf in Pentlitz and for the right-of-way from the wharf and depot to the yards near the town have been prepared. The wharf is to be 630 feet in length and construction, it is said, will start within a short time.

STAGE CAPSIZES WHEN HORSES BOLT

One Passenger Killed and Three Others Sustain Serious Injuries

Yosemite, Cal., June 5.—In a stage coach runaway, in the Yosemite valley late Saturday, one man was instantly killed, three women were seriously injured and seven other persons all tourists, sustained minor injuries.

The dead: R. S. Lincenring, Allen, Pa.

Seriously injured: Miss Martha Webster, Boston, arm broken; Miss Dienes, Boston, shoulder broken; Mrs. A. Jaekel, New York, gash over eye.

The accident occurred on a steep grade, between the Big Tree Grove at Wawona and the floor of the Yosemite valley. The horses on the front stage became unmanageable, the brakes failed to hold, and the team galloped down the winding road with the stage swinging from side to side between a high bank and a sharp precipice. Convinced that he could not stop the animals, the driver finally turned them straight into the wall of the cliff. The stage turned completely over, and several of the passengers were caught beneath it. Lincenring was thrown clear, but struck on his head and was instantly killed.

WAPPENSTEIN TRIAL

Seattle, Wash., June 5.—The cross-examination of Gideon Tupper, the rich saloon keeper of Seattle and Chicago, who is the principal witness in the prosecution of former Chief of Police Charles W. Wapenstein on a charge of accepting a bribe of $1,000 from Tupper and Charles Gerald or permitting white slave dens to be operated, occupied most of the day.

Tupper testified that when asked by Gill whether Wapenstein was accepting bribes, he denied it; he denied it always, to everyone. At a conference with Wapenstein's advisers before Tupper went before the money investigating committee the opinion was expressed that the council had no power to administer oaths, and Tupper declared to the committee that he had "never paid money" to Wapenstein; which testimony Tupper declared Saturday was false.

John F. Arnone, former proprietor of a crib house, followed Tupper on the stand. He told of going to Mayor Gill and attempting to secure permission to open the house, and said that Gill had refused him to Wapenstein.

Arnone testified that about two weeks after he had opened the house, with F. J. Long as manager, the house was ordered closed, and that he, accompanied by Long, visited Wapenstein's office to discuss the cause of the order. He swore that Wapenstein's opening remark to them was: "What are you trying to run down there—a bargain counter?" Before visiting the chief, he testified, he had secured some money to take along, and upon the conclusion of the conference he whispered to Long regarding the money, and Wapenstein said: "Never mind that."

Wapenstein instructed Long to return at five o'clock the same afternoon.

F. J. Long swore that he had returned and had a talk with Wapenstein, who advised him to see Tupper; that he went to Tupper and said that the rest were paying money and he was perfectly willing to do so. He testified that Tupper cut him off short, and that he had never paid him any money. In reference to the complaint that he was cutting prices by reducing the room rent to the girls, Long swore that Wapenstein told him to fix that matter or he would put all the crib houses out of business.

ADVANCEMENT

"The Cat and the Fiddle." A gorgeous musical extravaganza, "The Cat and the Fiddle," is the next attraction at the Victoria theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, June 7 and 8.

A company of some forty singers, dancers, comedians, and a large and carefully trained beauty chorus smartly gowned are promised. The plot is founded on the famous old nursery rhyme of "Hi Diddle Diddle, the Cat and the Fiddle." It deals with sprites, fairies, elfs, mortals, immortals, etc., and a large field for fun-making, ballet evolution chorus numbers and music is entered and, it is claimed, taken full advantage of.

More novelties, stage illusions and transformation, magic, and beautiful stage settings are promised than have ever been presented by one organization before. It is a long time since "Fantasma," "The Black Crook," "Mother Goose," "The Babes in the Woods," and for that reason "The Cat and the Fiddle" is interesting.

Some of the prominent scenes include "On Deck of the Fairy Ship Diana," "The Golden Fire Shower," "The Air Ship," "Under the Sea," "The Giant's Haunted Castle," and others too numerous to mention.

The cast includes Harry B. Watson, as "Happy," a child of fortune, favorably known as a comedian of decided merit, the Boylans as the twins; Geo. E. Wakefield, as Great Gobs; J. O. Campbell as the Lieutenant; Lawrence Gotthard, as the Gigantic Cat; Matty Martz, as beautiful and stately Circe; and a capable company of other good extravaganza players.

Sothern and Marlowe Coming. The eminent dramatic attraction of the season comes to the Victoria theatre on Monday, June 12, in the appearance of E. H. Sothern and Miss Julia Marlowe.

For this engagement these two eminent artists have made a selection of the most popular Shakespearean plays in their repertoire, "Romeo and Juliet," allowing them to be seen in the two characters with which they are closely identified, and the event will undoubtedly mark a memorable record in the annals of classic drama in this city.

Mr. Sothern and Miss Marlowe have made a massive artistic production of the play, which is looked upon as the finest example of stagecraft of the theatre to-day.

Their organization ranks among the most important organizations that have ever presented Shakespearean plays in this country. Eleven cars are required to transport their scenic effects and company throughout the country.

The sale of seats commenced this morning, when a long line of patrons waited at the box office to purchase seats. There has been no increase in prices for this engagement, notable as it is, the best seats being procurable at $2.

Allen Players

The Allen Players again presented "Mardi" at the matinee in the Victoria theatre on Saturday and in the evening were seen in that delightful comedy "Hello Bill." Great interest was taken in Miss Verna Felton's coronation gown, but even more in her splendid presentation of the heroine.

To-night and to-morrow the company will present "The House of a Thousand Candles" and on Friday and Saturday Eleanor Robson's great success, "Morley Mary Ann." It is a long time since either of these has been seen here and from the work the Allen Players have so far done, it is safe to predict that success awaits them in these plays and pleasure will be the part of their audiences.

CITY WILL PROTECT ROSS BAY CEMETERY

Wall May Not Be Completed but Graveyard Will Be Immune From Sea

The proposal to erect a sea wall at Ross Bay for the purpose of protecting the foreshore and the cemetery has at last begun to assume form and it is possible, as a result of the pressure brought to bear upon the subject, that the necessary bylaw for the work will be submitted to the people at the earliest opportunity. In view of the advance which the season will have made before the scheme can be properly inaugurated it will be so arranged that the work necessary to the protection of the cemetery will be completed this year, so that a recurrence of the harrowing scenes which marred last winter will not be possible. The sum required for this branch of the work is estimated at $56,295, whereas the estimated cost of the completed wall is $152,000.

Since the matter was first mooted in the present city council it has been left in the joint hands of Aldermen Peden and Langley. These gentlemen have been at great pains to get accurate information as to the formation of the necessary wall and the estimated cost of the same. According to their latest advice made to the city council the other evening it is the intention to have a wall extending from Clover point to St. Charles street, which, of course, takes in the whole cemetery front.

In their deliberations the aldermen, consulted with Cecil B. Case, A. M. I. C. E., an eminent English authority upon the construction of sea walls, from whom they have been able to obtain a report upon the type of wall suitable to the purpose at Ross Bay. It is this improved type of sea wall to which the estimated cost given above is applicable.

The probability of it being too late to complete the work this year has been considered by the aldermen, and it is their suggestion that the necessary part of the work, that is the part necessary to the protection of the cemetery, should be gone on with. They point out that unless steps are taken to preserve the cemetery from the ravages of the winter gales a recurrence of the devastating and horrifying spectacles of last year will be inevitable. Another matter which makes the early completion of this part of the work a bare necessity is the protection of the sewer which runs along the shore line.

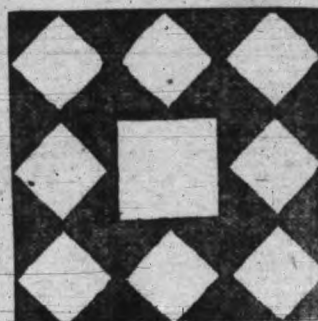

GROUNDS IN FOG

Quebec, June 5.—The Manchester line steamer Manchester Spinnaker, in command of Capt. Payne, bound from Manchester to Montreal with general cargo, ran ashore at the Crane Island flats Friday during a dense fog. The ship was proceeding up the river under half steam when she went aground on what is known as White Island, one of the most dangerous places below Quebec. After being aground for about two hours the Spinnaker with the rising tide floated without assistance and proceeded on her voyage. According to the reports the steamer was considerably damaged forward and making water freely, but the pumps were able to keep the vessel fairly clear.

VALUABLE PRIZES FOR YOU

20-Year Guaranteed Gentleman's Gold Watch

20-Year Guaranteed Lady's Gold Watch

This Beautiful
$475 Piano
FREE

Take any number from 1 to 15, inclusive. Do not use any number more than twice. Place one number in each of the squares so that when they are added perpendicularly or horizontally the total makes 23. It is not necessary to use this paper. For the most artistic correct answers, in order of merit, we will give, absolutely free, the prizes named above. All prize winners will be notified by mail and all prizes must be called for within 15 days from closing of contest. Only one person in a family can enter. The winner of the first special prize in this great publicity contest will receive absolutely free the $475 piano. Other special prizes to be awarded in order of merit. In case of ties identical prizes will be awarded tying contestants.

THE FOLLOWING ADDITIONAL LARGE LIST OF PRIZES

FIRST REWARD—$475 Upright Grand Piano.

SECOND REWARD—Gentleman's 20-Year Guaranteed Gold Watch.

THIRD REWARD—Lady's 20-Year Guaranteed Gold Watch.

FOURTH REWARD—$10 in Gold.

FIFTH REWARD—Beautiful Opera Glasses and Case.

All the above mentioned prizes to be given by Eastern Piano Manufacturers for the most artistic correct answer to the nine square puzzle

In Addition to the Above Rewards

Every prize winner will receive, according to the merits of the solution, a bona fide manufacturer's credit piano cheque for an amount from $50.00 to $137.50. These manufacturer's credit cheques will be accepted at their full face value to apply on the purchase of any one of the new pianos which we are introducing to the piano-loving public through this mammoth advertising plan. These pianos will be placed on sale with The Montelius Piano House, Ltd., of this city at a special introductory price. The above mentioned manufacturer's credit cheques will be given in denominations as follows: Three at $137.50, three at $125, three at $120, three at $110, fifteen at $100, fifteen at $95, fifteen at $90. A manufacturer's credit cheque for $50 will voluntarily be issued to each of the remaining contestants as an award for their efforts in this contest.

Every one has an equal opportunity. You may get the piano or a high credit cheque as well as anyone else. If you care for music and want a piano, this is the greatest opportunity you will ever have. This contest was especially prepared for pianoless homes, and it will be the means of our distributing hundreds of pianos. This large advertising sum is to be placed directly among piano buyers, where it will do most good. There is no catch or chance. Read the simple conditions. Send your answer in early. Start on it to-night.

Think of it. If you solve this puzzle correctly you will receive, IN ADDITION to one of the above elegant prizes, which you get ABSOLUTELY FREE, a bona fide cheque, as explained above.

THIS GRAND FREE DISTRIBUTION OF PRIZES IS OF VITAL INTEREST TO ANY HOME WITHOUT A PIANO.

The piano manufacturers and dealers have for many years tried to reduce the selling expense of musical instruments. The old way of selling pianos, pulling door bells, canvassing, paying music teachers' commissions, etc., have all been eliminated, and it is now a question of the best advertised piano. Any thinking person will readily appreciate that any manufacturer of any good piano can well afford to make the above liberal offer if by so doing he can make his instruments as well known in this vicinity during the next three or four weeks as would take three or four years by ordinary methods of advertising. The manufacturer's name being familiar to the piano purchaser, and the piano purchaser knowing the true value of the piano, makes it possible to sell a certain number.

The manufacturers of these pianos correctly believe that the best way to introduce them to this market is to place this large appropriation for advertising purposes directly among piano buyers—for whose benefit this contest is run—where it will do the most good, rather than employing world-famous demonstrators such as Pederevski and others at a fabulous expense and making the people pay for such methods by asking heavily inflated prices for the pianos. In order to do this they have inaugurated this great contest, in which each contestant has a chance to win one of these valuable prizes.

The manufacturers for whom we are conducting this contest want you to know that all answers will be considered, first as to the correct answer; second, as to the neatness of the answer; that only one answer will be considered from one family, and that in the event of a tie identical award will be made. We want to especially assure you that you should not lose a moment in mailing or bringing your answer to us. All solutions must be in our hands by 4 p.m. June 7, 1911. Try for one of these valuable prizes, which will be given free to successful contestants.

A SPECIAL WORD TO CONTESTANTS

Three to five disinterested citizens of Victoria will be chosen to act as judges and will make the awards. The names and addresses of these winners will be on display and open to everybody.

$500 Reward Will cheerfully be paid to any charitable institution of this city if anyone can prove and will establish the fact that these handsome and valuable prizes are not actually going to be awarded, or that this is not the grandest opportunity piano buyers will be offered to save piano money.

TAFT SPEAKS ON

RECIPROCITY PACT

cessity, in respect to other schedules of the tariff not affected or touched by it.

"I venture to think that there is much less real opposition to reciprocity than has been represented in Washington for the purpose of influencing votes in both houses. I am very hopeful that the bill will pass the senate, and when it does pass, and has been agreed upon by the Canadian parliament, its actual operation will be so beneficial to both countries that the arguments against its adoption will be forgotten and will be remembered as exaggerated instances of perverted imagination. I say this because I have examined the arguments and compared them with the actual statistics; and also because of the similar experience of the people of the United States have had in respect to the adoption of partial reciprocity with Cuba and of complete reciprocity with Porto Rico and the Philippines.

"Under reciprocity with Cuba, which reduced the duties on each side 20 per cent., our trade with that country was doubled.

"Under complete reciprocity, or free trade, with Porto Rico, our trade with that island has increased nearly fifteen times; under reciprocity relation, with the Philippines our mutual trade has nearly doubled in less than a year; and yet, in the case of each of these changes, there was vehement discussion, bitter opposition and wild prophecies of disastrous results.

"For ten years I engaged in the struggle for Philippine free trade, and for ten years I was regarded as the enemy of the agricultural interests of this country engaged in the raising of beet and cane sugar, and yet, since the adoption of the Payne tariff bill, which extended free trade to the Philippines, I have not heard a single complaint as to the effect of that feature.

"A careful analysis of the arguments, pro and con, over the Canadian reciprocity agreement, will convince any fair-minded economist who is well informed as to conditions in both countries that six months after the agreement is adopted there will be no complaint from any quarter.

"From what source does the opposition proceed? In the first place, it comes from two classes of the business interests, those who own and control the lumber supply of the United States and those who are engaged in the manufacture of print paper, and of whom the largest manufacturers own much of the spruce wood supply of the United States, from which print paper is made. And the second class opposed to the treaty are those who claim to represent the farmers and agricultural interests of the country.

"It is of the highest importance, therefore, not only to the consumers, but to the manufacturers of print paper, in order that they may secure their raw material at reasonable prices, to secure a letting down of the bars in Canada for the exportation of pulpwood. The provinces of Canada have control over the crown lands in which nine-tenths of the pulpwood is grown, and they have imposed restrictions and export duties of various kinds upon the pulpwood on the crown lands, in order to prevent the export of the wood except in the form of paper. The agreement provides that whenever the Canadian provinces remove all restrictions upon the exportation of pulpwood, then Canada will permit United States paper to come free into Canada and the United States will permit Canadian paper to come free into the United States.

"It is a provision looking far into the future, and which we hope will create a condition of absolutely free trade in paper and its materials, a condition that candid and sagacious paper manufacturers will admit is the best thing for the industry as it certainly is for the consumers.

"In the consideration of these classes of opponents to the treaty, I should promise that one of the great reasons for its making and submission to congress, was the conservation of our natural resources. It is perfectly evident that the statistics show that our lumber supply and supply of spruce wood for papermaking are being rapidly exhausted, and that the effect of the limitation of supply and the increase of demand, is to put too high a price upon the rough lumber and wood pulp. Under the reciprocity agreement, that duty is removed, I submit that as lumber is essential to all classes, farmers and merchants, as the price has gone far beyond what it ever was in the past, and as our supply is being exhausted, when we can, explain the sources from which our people may secure it at reasonable prices. The report of the chief of the bureau of corporations shows that the control of lumber in the United States is in comparatively few hands, and that they are so friendly to each other that the possibility of a monopoly is neither remote nor impossible, unless we bring to the markets of the United States the relatively inexhaustible supply to be found in Canada.

"Second, as to print papers. The tariff board has made a most exhaustive examination of the comparative cost of production of print paper in the United States and Canada. Indeed the report is so complete as to 'dedicate' the judgment of those who proposed the use of a board for the purpose of determining the differences in the cost of articles at home and abroad with a view to assisting congress in a rational readjustment of the tariff.

"This report shows that the mills best situated in the United States, with the best machinery, can manufacture print paper at a slightly less cost than the mills best situated in Canada; that the Canadian mills on the contrary have newer machinery than the United States mills; that there are quite a number of United States mills that use old machinery, and therefore do not conduct their business on economic lines; that the average cost of production in the United States, including the poorest mills, is about $5 more a ton than the cost of production in Canada, with newer mills; and that this $5 is just about the difference between the cost of pulpwood in the United States and the cost of pulpwood in Canada. It seems fairly reasonable to suppose, too, that that pulpwood, which only grows north of the 45th degree of latitude, will be exhausted in the United States or remain in the control of a few persons, because of the drain of the United States mills.

"The third class of opponents to the bill are those who claim vociferously to represent the whole farming industry of the United States. This, of course, is a much more formidable opposition than the special interests to which I have referred, and it is but natural that these special interests should be found co-operating with the farmers who claim to represent the farming interests in arousing the farmers to the horrors and disasters that are to follow reciprocity.

"The employment of a New York firm skilled in sending circulars is not the subject of proper criticism, provided the statements in the circulars are reasonable and well-founded. The significance of the fact that this same New York firm is looking for financial assistance in the campaign they are carrying on in behalf of the farmers against reciprocity not only to the farmer but also to gentlemen interested in lumber, in the manufacture of print paper and in other manufactures, cannot escape the attention of the public.

"How is the farmer to be affected by Canadian reciprocity and free trade in agricultural products? Canada is so far north that her agricultural products are limited to wheat, rye, barley, oats, potatoes, live cattle, horses and dairy products. She cannot and does not raise more than one-sixth of one per cent of the corn crop of the United States. She raises no cotton; she raises but few vegetables; she raises but few hogs, because she has not the corn to feed them; she is at present a great importer of all fruits, citrus and otherwise, from the United States; she imports a large amount of cottonseed oil, which by the Canadian reciprocity treaty is now made free; she cannot raise cattle as they are fattened in the United States, and therefore it has become profitable for farmers to import young cattle from Canada, even with the duty on them, and to fatten them for the Chicago market.

"The United States exports to Canada a great many more horses than she imports from Canada. She sends to Canada a much larger amount of potatoes than she receives from her. The United States imports from Canada about fifteen times as much meat and dairy products as Canada imports from the United States.

"The only real importation of agricultural products that we may expect from Canada of any considerable amount will consist of wheat, barley, rye and oats. The world price of these four cereals is fixed abroad, where the surplus from the producing countries is disposed of, and is little affected by the place from which the supply is derived. Canada's wheat nets perhaps ten cents less a bushel to the producer than wheat grown in the Dakotas or in Minnesota, due to the fact that the cost of exporting that wheat and warehousing it and marketing it in Liverpool is considerably greater than the cost to the Dakota farmer in disposing of his wheat to the millers of Minneapolis or sending it abroad. If now the duty is to be taken off wheat and the Canadian wheat can come to the millers of Minneapolis and other places, it can and will be made into flour, because the capacity of the United States mills is 33 per cent. greater than is needed to mill the wheat of this country; Canadian wheat can be imported and ground into flour without materially reducing the demand for, or price of, United States wheat and the surplus will be sent abroad as flour. The price of Canadian wheat doubtless will be increased a few cents by access to the market nearer at hand, but the access to the market nearer at hand will not reduce the price of his wheat to the United States farmer for the reasons stated.

"It is because I am confident it will be seen on both sides to be a statesmanlike measure, looking to the beneficial interests of both, that I so urgently press its adoption upon the congress and the people of the United States.

"President Taft said the prospects are the measure will be reported out next week, probably without recommendation. He believed amendments would be offered, and said some doubtless would be with a view to improving the present bill, and others attempting a revision and a reduction of duties on certain articles from all countries.

"Mr. Taft mentioned the Root amendment, saying it was in accordance with the inducement to lifting Canadian restrictions which the present provision in the bill does. Some of the probable meat and flour amendments, he thought, would be the gratuitous concessions to Canada. The objection he had to the farmers' free list was to defeat both bills. He urged a full discussion, and hopes as a result the reciprocity measure would be submitted to the senate without irrelevant and prejudicial amendments for its patriotic consideration.

"The advent of cricket brings a reminder that the game was not always looked upon as an innocent pastime, says an English exchange. Until a century and a half ago our great national pastime, in fact, figured in the statute book as a crime. The game was declared illegal in the time of Edward IV., owing to its having become so popular as to interfere with archery, the then sport of kings. The law against it was vigorously enforced, and every person convicted of playing the game was fined ten pounds or sent to prison.

S. A. ROGERS, PIONEER OF CARIBOO, DEAD

Passed Away Suddenly at His Home in Barkerville Last Evening

S. A. Rogers, the Cariboo King and ex-member of parliament, is dead. Early this morning word was received in Victoria by Mr. Dolg, manager of the British North America Bank, and also by the Hon. C. E. Pooley, that the veteran pioneer, who has been associated with the province of B. C. so long that they christened him "King," had succumbed to death last night.

Deceased was an Irishman, having been born of Irish parents in the Emerald Isle in the year 1840, which makes him 71 years of age. Migrating with his parents in 1844 to Prince Edward County, Ontario, young Samuel Augustus Rogers got his schooling there. In his youth he developed business habits and exercised his abilities in fitting himself for a business career. Years later, however, the roving disposition overcame his business interests and induced him to trek westwards, as so many other young men were doing about the same time.

Locating in Cariboo he very soon struck the rich seam which meant prosperity in material affairs and conspicuous in political affairs. First of all he became sheriff of Cariboo, Lillooet district, a position which he held for four years, doing much valuable work, and in the esteem of his fellows all the time.

His entry in the political arena saw him in the colors of a conservative. He contested his own district in 1890 and 1894, and was returned both times. In the 1898 campaign he went down to his first defeat, but he did not stay down, coming back in at the general election in 1900 and carrying the seat, but was defeated in 1903.

Needless to say Rogers was well-known and popular, particularly in the district where he made his home, and his death will be greatly mourned. For many years he has carried on a general store at Barkerville.

PAVING WORK STARTED.

Work on the great paving contract, awarded to the Canadian Mineral Rubber Company by the city, was started this morning on Howe street. The section of the street upon which the contractors have started the execution of the work lies between Humboldt and May. As pointed out previously in the columns of the Times a list of eight streets have been assigned the company to start their paving operations on. As yet, however, the company's asphalt plant has not reached the city, and while that should not hinder the company from making a start it may be argued that it is not the best guarantee possible of the company's implementation of their promises made before the contract was awarded them.

Over six million acres of land are under tobacco cultivation throughout the world.

WORK ON GRAND TRUNK PACIFIC

PRESIDENT HAYS

TELLS OF PROGRESS

Rails Will Probably Be Laid Across Summit to Tete Jaune Cache Next Fall

Vancouver, June 5.—C. M. Hays, president of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway, who arrived here yesterday afternoon en route to Prince Rupert, says:

Tenders for the building of the gap of 414 miles between Tete Jaune Cache, fifty miles west of Yellowhead Pass, and Aldermere in Bulkley Valley, will be called immediately and it is expected that the work will be in full swing before the end of the summer. The main line has now been extended 200 miles west of Edmonton to a point near Athabasca River and less than 25 miles from the summit of the Rockies at Yellowhead Pass. The rails, it is expected, will be laid across the summit as far as Tete Jaune Cache some time next fall, if the present rate of progress is maintained. Two years more will be occupied in linking up the eastern and western sections. Then will follow the building of the branch line from Fort George to Vancouver.

The Grand Trunk Pacific also contemplates making an early start on the construction of a $2,500,000 drydock at Prince Rupert, as well as other important terminal improvements in the event of the management on this trip being successful in adjusting the difficulty now existing with reference to the rate of taxation on railway property at Prince Rupert. An agreement between the railway company and the city council of Prince Rupert was negotiated last winter, but has not been signed. The railway company seeks certain modifications and the aldermen desire certain sections of the waterfront developed for shipping purposes and over sixty parcels of property for public square and park purposes. Upon the success of these forthcoming negotiations will hinge the undertaking of various terminal improvements, including the drydock project.

This summarizes the announcements made by President Hays to-day. Mr. Hays is looking well and still exhibits the masterful characteristics which have given him fame in the railway world. His party companies Mr. E. J. Chamberlain, general manager, Mr. J. E. Donnelly, a New York dock building expert, George Hall, landscape architect of Boston, who laid out the plans of Prince Rupert, and D. R. Galloway and N. Kinsella, private secretaries to the president and general manager, respectively. The visitors will go north on the Prince Rupert at midnight, returning by the same steamer. They expect to confer with the city council and inspect the 100 mile completed section before returning on the same boat.

"East of the Rockies better progress is being made on main line construction than last year," said Mr. Hays. "Our party travelled 200 miles west of Edmonton to railroad near Athabasca River, which is about 25 miles from the summit of the Rockies at Yellowhead Pass. The work is well under way on the other side of the summit to Tete Jaune Cache, which the tracklaying crews should reach some time next fall. There are between 1,500 and 2,000 men employed in the various camps, but there is room for double those numbers if we could secure them. The labor problem is the real difficulty owing to the vast amount of railway construction in progress. Our road alone has six hundred miles of branch lines under construction on the prairies."

"Tenders will be called for shortly for the building of the 414 mile gap between Tete Jaune Cache and Aldermere, and we hope to see the work all under way during this summer."

"I think Mr. Kellner, chief engineer, will be in a position to ask for bids next week," interjected Mr. Chamberlain, the general manager.

"I have every reason to believe that the main line between Prince Rupert and Edmonton will be finished within the next two years," continued the president. "There will be no delay in rushing the work. All that is needed is a full supply of labor, as we have in the bank all the money necessary to complete the big undertaking."

In the inquest held by Coroner Hart on the body of James McKay, which was found on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, on the Indian Reserve, the jury brought in a verdict of death due to natural causes. Dr. Barty, who conducted the post-mortem examination, reported that he had found no marks or evidences that death had been caused by poison or violence. The body was discovered by a Greek, who informed the police. A few papers, a flask, and other articles were found in a pocket of the deceased. He was about 45 years of age and had recently been released from the provincial jail at Nanaimo. The body will be sent to Nanaimo for interment.

CHICAGO'S HOTTEST JUNE DAY.

Chicago, June 5.—Chicago yesterday sweltered in what was by five degrees the hottest June day recorded here. The temperature rose to 95.3 degrees, more than one degree higher than the next hottest day of the year, in which many heat records have fallen. One drowning and several heat prostrations were reported. Following a day of suffering the mercury dropped suddenly at night, falling 30 degrees to 65 by 9 o'clock.

The area of the great Sahara desert is almost as great as that of the United States.

HEROINE OF WEST COAST IS DEAD

MRS. PATERSON PASSED AWAY IN ALBERNI SUNDAY

Never Recovered From Effects of Her Long Tramp to Save Crew

One of the heroines of Vancouver Island, a woman who braved the terrible storms off the west coast on several occasions to bring assistance to sailors and passengers in peril on the deep, passed away at her home at Alberni yesterday morning in the person of Mrs. Minnie Paterson, wife of Thomas Paterson, formerly lighthouse-keeper at Cape Beale, who for over thirteen years kept lonely vigil over the waters of this treacherous point. Mrs. Paterson had been in ill-health ever since her memorable tramp of four and a half years ago.

Not only has the name Mrs. Paterson been heard in every home in British Columbia and the states of the Pacific coast in connection with the many daring rescues she has been the means of making, but it was before the Dominion parliament and the United States congress. She did during her long stay at the west coast lighthouse prove that she was willing to sacrifice her life in an attempt to save others, and as some record of her great courage she was the recipient at different periods of medals, silverware and other appreciable gifts as a slight token of the gratitude and respect of governments and also of shipwrecked sailors and passengers, who would have perished in the raging elements off the coast had it not been for the pluck and courage of this little woman.

Mrs. Paterson was not of great stature but she possessed an undiminished supply of indomitable courage. When lying nearly at death's door she once walked for five miles, to summon aid for several sailors who were beating about in a waterlogged vessel and threatened with a watery grave at any minute. Only her efforts to assist those in peril on the sea has kept the death roll from assuming larger proportions during the time she was at Cape Beale than it would have under other circumstances.

An act of Mrs. Paterson's which called for strength, endurance and pluck and which has finally cost her life, was when the American barkentine Coloma was sighted waterlogged on December 7, 1906 off Cape Beale, beating about helplessly in the trough of a terrible sea. The telegraph wires from Cape Beale to Bamfield were down. Mr. Paterson dare not leave his post of duty and Mrs. Paterson, who was in ill-health at the time, started on the long tramp to Bamfield, where the steamer Quadra lay, to inform her crew of the accident. She had to walk twelve miles and the trail between these two points was rough and in no way like the same condition as it is today. Still her courage refused to permit her to return, and she pushed onward. The return trip was too much for the little lady and she reached Bamfield in an almost exhausted state.

However, she delivered the message and soon the Quadra was under way. Aboard the ship was a crew of ten men and the Marine and Fisheries steamer "Angel of the West Coast." Mrs. Paterson was able to rescue everyone of them. It had not been for the efforts of Mrs. Paterson and her sympathy for her fellow-beings in dangers the men on the Coloma would all have perished of cold. This most courageous act which would be a credit to the strongest man of the age, did not pass by unrecognized by the community or the government of the United States. A handsome silver plate beautifully inscribed, was sent by the latter to Mrs. Paterson, while a purse was raised here for the "Angel of the West Coast." Mrs. Paterson was endowed with the fight to the finish qualities and the public cannot ever return to Mrs. Paterson the debt which it owes her for her services rendered.

The name of Mrs. Paterson is also connected with the terrible disaster of the Valancia off this coast. With her hands on the telegraph key she sat in the station there for thirty-six hours at a stretch, wiring messages as to the condition of the vessel and passengers to this city. She sent the telegram which gave the public the first intimation of the steamship's awful predicament, and immediately vessels were dispatched from here to assist the ship. She wonk on the shore and kept wiring Victoria earnest pleas for immediate assistance.

Mrs. Paterson went to Cape Beale with her husband in 1895 and up to August of 1908 she remained there. Since that time she has been living at Alberni and has been in failing health ever since. Her terrible walk to bring help to the Coloma's crew undiminished her strength. She was still in the prime of life and her early death is due to the hardships she underwent while living at Cape Beale in rendering assistance to the shipwrecked.

The death of Mrs. Paterson is felt in Victoria probably more than in any other city on the coast, as she had numerous friends here and nearly every person recognizes the name when mentioned. She was to this island what Florence Nightingale was to the Crimea.

The late Mrs. Paterson was a daughter of George A. Huff, of Alberni, formerly member of the provincial legislature. She was about thirty-one years of age and is survived in the immediate family by a husband and seven children. Mrs. Huff also had the distinction of having rescued two men from drowning on the Atlantic coast.

ALLEGED DYNAMITERS.

Men Accused of Having Attempted to Blow up County Hall Will be Arraigned Tuesday.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 5.—Bert Conners, P. Ira Bender and A. B. Maple will be arraigned to-morrow on the indictment charging them with having attempted to blow up the county hall of records with dynamite.

Attorneys for the defence will then make an effort to obtain a reduction in the amount of bail, which was fixed at $25,000 for each of the three accused men at the time of their arrest ten days ago. If reductions cannot be procured it is said sureties for a total of $75,000 can be obtained easily by the union leaders in time to have the prisoners released after their arraignment to-morrow.

HAVE NARROW ESCAPE.

Fresno, Cal., June 5.—Charles Brown, a professional parachute jumper, and Charles Friedell, of this city, were saved when their balloon fell yesterday by a tree and irrigation ditch. Soon after the balloon left the ground at a local park it was discovered that it had been improperly filled. It tilted and began to descend rapidly. Brown jumped into ditch filled with water. Friedell's hands were lashed to the bar of the basket and he was unable to free himself. After falling some distance he was dragged into the tree and hung there until rescued. The balloon escaped and is lost. Friedell was only slightly hurt.

RAILWAY SCHEME

FOR HARBOR FRONT

COMPANY IS FORMED
TO ESTABLISH LINE

Will Ask City for Permission to Cross Causeway and Utilize Street Ends

Within a very short time it is estimated that the promoters of the freight railway scheme for the waterfront of Victoria will approach the city council with a view to obtaining the rights and privileges necessary to the efficient working of their proposed system. As the scheme is an extensive one and likely to play an important part in the development of the harbor, it will undoubtedly be given the greatest consideration, but at the same time it is possible that in its creation the amenity of certain parts of the city may be grievously affected, and this will doubtless temper the commercial enthusiasm that the project might evoke with an aesthetic sense of preservation. However, as the scheme is merely being introduced against the light of the future it is idle to raise what may be futile and wrongly-conceived protests.

At the present time the proposed scheme outlines a freight railway circling the harbor front and facilitating the free and cheap interchange of freight from the various wharves and depots. Such a freight railway, it is believed, would greatly stimulate trade and prove a blessing to the merchants whose businesses are at present hampered to some extent by the undeveloped conditions with which they have to contend. That the rapid transit of goods at a cheap rate would prove of inestimable value to shippers cannot be disputed. That is the rock upon which the promoters of the scheme are resting their claim for the city's indulgence. The proposition is to run the road from a point near the Brackman-Ker mill, at the outer wharf, along the harbor front to the B. C. Soap Works, and thence past the C. P. R. wharf offices to the Causeway, in front of which it would run to connect with the wharves of the Alaska Steamship Company and the Grand Trunk Pacific, and thence northerly to a point on Bridge street, where it is intended to establish terminals. From there a branch would be constructed to connect with the V. & S. railway at the terminal of that company, on Blanchard street, while another line would cross the inner harbor near the Point Ellice bridge and enter the reserve to connect with the E. & N. railway and any other lines which would in the future locate there.

Of course the consent of the city is essential to the establishment of the railway, as the street ends and other civic rights would be permanently affected by the scheme. The construction of a line across the front of the Causeway would of itself be a matter for serious consideration. One can imagine many criticisms of any scheme carrying that necessity as one of its ingredients. However, the ways of commercial adjustment are things of passing strangeness, and it is not improbable that some means will be devised for the establishment of the railway without destroying the amenity of that auspicious locality.

STORY OF BATTLE OF CHATEAUGUAY

Historic Incident Now to Be Included in Coronation Features

It was recently announced that the London authorities in charge of the Festival of Empire pageants had withdrawn the proposed representation of the Battle of Chateauguay, on account of supposed American susceptibilities. The Canadian Government denied all part in this withdrawal, and with the opposition rather condemned it as unnecessary. It has, however, been restored in the plans of the coronation committee, and will be one of the features of the fête.

The Ottawa Journal has dug up the story of the incident and the following is an account of the battle: It was in October, 1813, that an army of 8,000 men had been collected at Sackett's Harbor, N. Y., under General Wilkinson and Boyd, and they there encountered the stratagem of St. Lawrence.

As these forces descended the river they were followed by a small and compact body of British troops under Colonel Pearson and Harvey, accompanied by eight gunboats and three field pieces which did much damage to the enemy.

On November 11 Wilkinson and his main army were with the flotilla near Prescott and on the way to effect a junction with an army under General Hampton, which was to meet them at the mouth of the Chateauguay. General Boyd, with 2,500 men was marching along the shore followed by 800 British troops under Col. Morrison, who had resolved to attack the enemy at a place called Chrysler's Farm.

The result was one of the most complete victories of the war, the Americans losing many prisoners besides 239 officers and men, killed or wounded. The British loss was 181.

Boyd immediately returned to his boats and joined Wilkinson. They then proceeded to the place at which the junction with Hampton was to be made and from there they were to advance upon Montreal.

Meanwhile Hampton had marched from Lake Champlain with 7,000 men towards the mouth of the Chateauguay. At this point, and amid the natural difficulties of forest surroundings, he was met on the night of October 25 by Colonel de Salaberry in command of 300 French-Canadian militia and a few Indians, and supported by Col. McDonnell with another French contingent of 600 men, who had made the most rapid forced march in Canadian history, and had reached Chateauguay the day before the battle.

The Americans advanced upon the hidden first line with 4,000 men, but on driving it back, they met the second line under Colonel McDonnell, and there, encountered the stratagem of buglers placed at considerable distance apart and sounding their instruments so as to give the impression of large numbers, while at the same time the bewildering yells and war cries of some fifty scattered Indians immensely increased the uproar and tumult.

The immediate result was the defeat of the American forces, their retreat on the following day and their consequent failure to meet Wilkinson at the mouth of the Chateauguay.

The failure involved the collapse of an elaborate campaign of 15,000 men for the capture of Montreal, through the timely gallantry and clever leadership of two little forces of about 2,000 men altogether.
